SOUND ADVICE TO TURFMEN

When a man asks for the favorite, tell him "Mumm's the word!" Money down on Mumm's Champagne and you're alright—it's a sure winner from a health standpoint. There's no bad after-effects from this "thoroughbred of wines," and it's the best looking bottle among them all. There's no wine like G. H. Mumm & Co.'s Champagne with which to drink to the health of the winner. It's the best selection for victor or vanquished. Call for Mumm's "Extra Dry" or "Selected Brut" at any hotel, bar or restaurant. There is always heavy play on discerning people's first choice—Mumm's Champagne. Its enormous popularity gives it an almost clean sweep of the card.

SMALL HOPE OF DISCOVERY

Leon Ling, Suspected Murderer, Still Remains in Hiding

MANY STORIES SENT, BUT NONE CORRECT

Search Also Made for Chinaman Who Carried Bogus Message

New York, June 24.—With all hopes of an early capture of Elsie Sigel's murderer narrowing to the point of abandonment, although a fresh crop of rumors is springing up with each hour of added uncertainty, another day of the investigation of the case ended tonight. Chung Sin, after 34 hours of gruelling, with but one intermission for sleep, had a day of rest at last. Either because the police despair of squeezing information out of him, or because he has been left to forget the details of his first answers, in order he may entangle himself in more contradictions, they did not question him today.

The same stream of hopeful but unsatisfactory clues, keep pouring in from Chinatown itself, from Newark and the suburbs, from Cleveland and from the cities of the Pacific coast, but none of them proved to have any substantial basis.

Chu Gain explained today that the $250 advanced to Chung Sin, Leon Ling's room mate, did not come out of his private purse, but that the money was part of a loan fund of the Chinese Empire Reform Association, of which he is treasurer. Chu Gain had nothing better than a private surmise as to where the money was going, and in his official capacity of treasurer, he could not be influenced by conjectures one way or another.

A meeting was held tonight at the Morning Star mission in the heart of Chinatown to raise funds for running down Leon Ling.

Another Man Wanted.

It was learned today that the police are searching for another Chinaman, Arthur Kung, a friend and associate of both Chu Gain and Leon Ling, and who has disappeared since June 13. It was Chu Gain and Yung who carried to the home of the Sigels the telegram purporting to have been sent by Elsie Sigel from Washington June 9, stating that where Chu Gain be home on Sunday and adding: "Don't worry." The message was not addressed to Paul Sigel, the father of the murdered girl, it was said today, as previously reported, but Yung declared that it had been received by him at 9 Mt. street, where Chu Gain's restaurant is located. It was stated today that the original of the message could not be found in the Washington offices of either of the telegraph companies. The police received what they believe is reliable information today that Leon Ling was seen at 19 Pell street, this city, on the Sunday following Elsie Sigel's murder. Leon was in company of a number of members of the Lee clan with which he is affiliated. It is said that during the conference he was provided by members of the clan with $400 to aid him in effecting his escape. The police today are questioning a number of the Lee clan in an effort to get further information about the Pell street conference.

Chu Gain Threatened.

Threatening letters received by Chu Gain warning him to pay no attention to Elsie Sigel on pain of death were surrendered by Chu Gain to Assistant District Attorney Weed today. The letters were signed "The Chief," and were written in Chinese characters. Other than that they contained terrible threats against Chu Gain, their contents have not been made known.

Watching Steamships.

San Francisco, June 24.—A detail of detectives is searching the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria, due to sail today, for Leon Ling. Just before noon the chief of police was notified that the detectives had information leading them to believe that the suspected murderer was on board. Attempts at identification are being made.

Cleveland Report.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 24.—It was learned that a Chinaman greatly resembling Leon Ling arrived here last Sunday morning. The time the baggage which had been checked at Schenectady was received. The Chinaman, whom the union depot gatekeeper saw leaving the depot on Sunday morning wore European garments and is described as being exceptionally tall for a Chinaman. The missing Ling is described as five feet eight inches high. The Cleveland police are making every effort to locate the stranger or the baggage.

NEAR SUFFOCATION

Grain Loaders on Steamship at Montreal Nearly Killed by Negligence

Montreal, June 24.—Buried in the midships grain bunker of the steamship Lake Manitoba, 16 men last night narrowly escaped a horrible death. For four hours they lay on top of the heaps of wheat on the decks, forgotten by their fellows, and only sustaining life by taking turns at breathing under the narrow ventilator pipes. Negligence caused the mishap, but the true author of it is hard to discover. The foreman in charge should have known when it was time to stop the delivery of grain, and the watchman governing the flow through the marine log should have known how much the bunker would hold. Then, finally the eagerness of men to get to their supper left their fellows stifling and smothering in the bunker.

NOT UNTIL IT WAS NOTICED THAT NONE OF THE GANG HAD BEEN UP TO SUPPER OR HAD RETURNED TO WORK ON THE NIGHT SHIFT DID THE OTHER WORKMEN BEGIN TO THINK WHO HAD BECOME OF THEM. THEIR EVERY EFFORT WAS MADE TO RESCUE THEIR COMRADES. WHEN A THOUSAND BUSHELLS HAD BEEN TAKEN OUT THE MEN WERE LIBERATED AND HAULED GASPING AND ALMOST SUFFOCATED, TO THE DECKS.

WANTS FULL SHARE

No Abatement in American Demand for Part of Chinese Railway Loan

Peking, June 24.—Despatches received here from Europe setting forth that the United States contemplates accepting twenty per cent of the foreign loan of $27,500,000 for the construction of the Hankow Sze-Chuen railroad, instead of the twenty-five per cent that would be her share under an equal division with Great Britain, Germany, and France, have been given official and emphatic cordial welcome. It is believed that these messages found their original in proposals advanced here diplomatically for the purpose of persuading America to be satisfied solely with the political advantages of participation in this loan. The claim for full financial participation, twenty-five per cent, has not been modified, and the acceptance of a smaller proportion is regarded here as a humiliation. That the European group of bankers are conciliatory is due to their acceptance of China's expressed desire that American financiers participate.

Henry P. Fletcher, secretary of the American legation, was in conference with the foreign board today.

Colombia's President.

Bogota, June 24.—President Holguin has issued a statement in which he sets forth that he will resign his position before the meeting of the next congress, which is fixed for July 20, but in the meantime he will uphold the constitution and see that the laws now in force are respected.

NET IS SPREAD FOR ROBBERS

Provincial and Mounted Police Busy Scouring Upper Country

Kamloops, June 24.—Chief Constable Fernie, who is in charge of the pursuit of the C. P. R. train bandits, came into the city today to gather fresh supplies. The Indians came in with him to get their horses, and left again at 4 o'clock.

Chief Fernie says that they could find the tracks of but three men, and it is evident that they went towards the boundary. The police have been working in three circles, with a radius of seven miles around the scene of the hold-up. Most of the work has been done on foot, and was carefully planned and carried out. Though some dynamite and other effects of the robbers were found near the track, there was no other clue, and it is evident that the desperadoes made a clean getaway.

It now develops that there was a box of gold among the consignment of silver from Trail, and this, it is thought, is the booty that the train robbers sought. The police received advice of the box of gold only today, and the officials are now confident that this forms the motive. The transfer of the gold and silver at Revelstoke is all that saved the precious metal.

This district is veritably alive with officers of the law. A detachment of North-west Mounted Police reached here today from Calgary, and will join in the chase, and ten Thiel detectives from Winnipeg are en route to the scene.

Sergeant Murray, of the Provincial Police, is here, and will likely take charge of the operations. He has with him a host of provincial, as well as C. P. R. constables. The fullest confidence is rested in the Indians, however, and to them the police are looking for a capture. Their keen sense of detection and their wonderful ability in tracking, will, in the opinion of the police, succeed in locating the fugitives. The Indians have joined in the chase most enthusiastically.

It seems impossible that the bandits will get away, for a net reaching from the scene of the hold-up to the boundary has been spread, and its meshes are too fine to allow them to get through. Every available agency has been pressed into service, and the entire country is being thoroughly scoured in the search. In the net that Chief Fernie has already thrown out the country for a radius of almost a hundred miles has been covered on both sides of the river.

There is a feeling amongst some of the local residents around Ducks that the hold-up men lived in that district, and that they may now be found at work on their ranches. This opinion is carrying considerable weight with the police in view of certain circumstances that have developed, and for that reason expert detectives will be put to work.

Every telegraph office between Ducks and Sicamous will be visited and the despatches of the past few days examined.

TURNED DOWN BY REICHSTAG

German Government's Plan of Financial Reform Meets Obstacle

INHERITANCE TAX IS OBJECTED TO

Rumor Has Chancellor Resigning and Parliament Dissolving

Berlin, June 24.—The reichstag today further added to the government's difficulties in its proposed financial reforms by rejecting by a vote of 194 to 138 the imperial ministry's bill to extend the inheritance taxes to direct heirs, including widows and children. The president of the reichstag acknowledged, however, that the bill in its present form would be dropped.

Public excitement concerning the situation showed itself by the filling of the public galleries to overflowing. The ministerial and federal council benches were crowded. Chancellor von Buelow and his colleagues followed the ebb and flow of the debate with the tensest interest. The chancellor, however, did not speak. He left the chamber when he learned that the voting was likely to be unfavorable to his bill.

The members of the house gather in record strength, 381 members being present out of a total of 397.

One of the members declined to vote; nine were absent on account of illness and four from other causes; three seats were vacant, owing to deaths. The National Liberal, Herr Quack, although seriously ill, insisted upon being carried to the house in order to participate in the vote.

The speeches were exceedingly bitter, and especially those of the Conservatives and National Liberals, who had hitherto formed a coalition in support of the chancellor. There was much cheering, and sometimes, ironical laughter, as the orators expressed the views of the party leaders from the platform.

It is rumored tonight that the Reichstag will shortly adjourn until autumn, to permit the government to revise its financial scheme, but as the chancellor and the other ministers have always expressed a reserve to include some further tax on property it is not possible to forecast how they will be able to clear the situation. Other reports say that parliament will be dissolved, or that Prince von Buelow will resign, but nothing definite is given out.

TOBACCO TRUST MUCH FAVORED

Senator Beverage Charges That It Is Taxed Too Lightly

Washington, D.C., June 24.—Declaring that the American Tobacco Company had been the recipient of many millions of dollars which otherwise would have gone into the national treasury, because of the failure of the Government to require a change in the price of tobacco packages when the war revenue law was repealed, Senator Beverage today spoke in length in support of his amendment to the tariff bill correcting this commission.

He declared that adoption of his amendment would give the Government more than $21,000,000 in revenue. "When the tariff came from the House to the Senate it increased the tax on cigarettes a poor, miserable increase, and the finance committee of the Senate actually has struck out this little increase on cigarettes."

Mr. Beverage asserted that the American tax on tobacco is only a fraction of the tax of most other civilized nations. Stating that the annual consumption of tobacco in this country amounts to five and a half pounds for every man, woman and child, he said that if we taxed tobacco at the same rate as is imposed by England and France the United States would every year derive $333,336,666, instead of less than $50,000,000 as at present. Furthermore, he asserted that the tobacco tax is now lower than at any previous time, except for a few years prior to 1898. Mr. Beverage declared that the greater portion of the proposed amendment would fall upon the trust, which, he declared, is bitterly resisting the adoption of his amendment.

A short time before adjournment tonight at 7 o'clock the senate returned to the consideration of the schedule of the tariff bill, after devoting the greater part of the day to listening to speeches and adopted amendments increasing the duty on shoes from 15 to 20 per cent, ad valorem, and increasing the duty on sole leather from 5 to 10 per cent, ad valorem, the lower figure representing the house rate in each case. When the senate convened Senator Beverage talked for about four hours, and was followed by Mr. Bailey at almost as great length. Mr. Newlands was the last of the orators of the day.

Slavonia Total Wreck.

POSSESSED INTEREST

Dispute Over Timber Claim Results in Judgment for the Plaintiff

Chief Justice Hunter gave judgment for the plaintiff yesterday in the case of Quadros v. Pichon after a hearing which lasted most of the day. It was action for an accounting and a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to a half interest in the proceeds of the sale of a timber limit. The story of the plaintiff, which was accepted by the court after it had been corroborated by the terms of a letter written by the defendant to the plaintiff, and which spoke of "our claim" was briefly as follows:

He had agreed with Pichon to stake certain timber which he knew of, on consideration of Pichon paying the survey and license fees. The license was taken out in Pichon's name, but they were to be equal partners in the proceeds. After several years the timber limit was sold by Pichon, who denied that Quadros had any interest in the proceeds.

The defendant's story was that Quadros's interest depended on the latter selling the limit within a year and that the latter had represented that he could do so on first broaching the plan. Quadros had not been able to sell the limit within the twelve month, and consequently it was asserted he no longer had an interest. This story, however, was not accepted by the chief justice. Wm. C. Moresby and R. C. Lowe appeared for the plaintiff and Col. F. B. Gregory for the defendant.

Minnesota Tragedy.

Winnipeg, June 24.—Mrs. Gust Benikson was killed at Preston, Minn., last night by her crazed husband while trying to shield her 12-year-old son from death at his father's hands. Before the sheriff arrived the crazed man went into the woods and shot himself, dying in a few minutes. Seven children survive, the youngest being six months old.

GOOD RECORD OF GOVERNMENT

Premier and Others Speak at Conservative Gathering in Kootenay

Nelson, June 24.—The Conservative picnic at Proctor yesterday, at which were present Premier McBride, Hon. Thomas Taylor, Messrs. Schofield, MacKay, Goodeve and Burrell, proved a great success. Outstanding speeches were confidence in B. C., confidence in and loyalty to the Premier and his colleagues, admiration of the splendid service of the opposition at Ottawa, loyalty to the Mother Land and the desire that Canada would take up her share of the defence.

The Premier, after congratulating Kootenay and Yale-Cariboo on being represented by Messrs. Goodeve and Burrell, assured his hearers that Messrs. Cowan, Taylor and Barnard were no less zealous for the province and party. He said that he was willing to submit his political fortunes to the issue: "Have the affairs of B. C. for the past six years been conducted in an honest businesslike manner? I am proud to say that the government during those years has not been guilty of one dishonest act."

He reminded the audience of the dark outlook when he took office. That condition had been happily done away with and the province was able to now spend more than ever for necessary and profitable public works without going into debt for them. He asked it all the magnificent progress made since 1903—was accidental. He was prepared to defend the expenditure of every dollar during his tenure of office. He further challenged anyone to attack the disposition of government patronage by him. "There are," he said, "no back stairs to our offices and no special favors to friends." He wanted all to remember that he and his party were pledged to better terms for B. C. and to protection of white labor in Canada as secured in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. He thought Canada could not do too much to assist the Mother Land in defence of the Empire by land and sea.

Martin Burrell thought the record of McBride government a splendid one, but he could not say the same for the present administration at Ottawa. Last session especially had been marked by brazen defense of gross irregularities and shameful extravagance. He knew that many Liberals supported Mr. McBride on the broad ground that his administration was efficient, progressive and clean. He referred to the crushing defeat of Slitism in Manitoba and denounced the late loan to the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Goodeve criticized the financial policy of the Dominion government. He said that C. C. colleagues had lost no opportunity to protest against the wild extravagance which was increasing Canada's debt at an appalling rate. With Mr. Burrell, he considered the Laurier government in spite of its brute majority was weakening fast as private members found it impossible to condone or defend the acts of ministers.

Hon. Thomas Taylor explained that the department was spending $3,000,000 this year and he was travelling to see where and how. He spoke of the unlimited possibilities of B. C. and said he did not see why in a very short time the province should not be crossed by four trans-continental railways. He remembered that previous to the McBride regime the province had one long history or regular and growing deficits.

Short speeches were also delivered by Messrs. MacKay and R. F. Green. The Premier and party are spending today at Kaslo, where a big public meeting is being held. They will leave for Siccan tomorrow morning.

CANADA FARM OPERATIONS

Report From Census Office Shows Acreage and Condition of Crops

WHEAT INCREASE IN PRAIRIE COUNTRY

Backward Spring Prevents Farmers Sowing Grain at Early Date

Ottawa, June 24.—The census and statistics office has today issued a report on the crops and live stock of Canada, as reported to date of June 15. In all parts of Canada farm operations have been delayed this year. The months of April and May were cold and wet, and farmers were unable to get on their land until late. Fall wheat that had been sown suffered much injury from hard frosts, and spring operations have been two to three weeks later than usual. Yet the reports from all the provinces are very satisfactory. Grain crops and grasses are growing thriftily, and, excepting in some localities of the maritime provinces, where the rainfall has been light, there is promise of an excellent harvest.

Wheat, the great staple crop of the country, has a reported area of 7,750,000 acres, which is 1,140,000 acres more than last year. In the maritime provinces and Quebec there is little change, but in Ontario the area is less by 106,600 acres, of which 88,300 acres is fall wheat. Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta show an area of 6,878,000 acres, being 1,254,000 acres more than last year.

The condition of fall wheat at the middle of June was 18.5 and of spring wheat 92.5 per cent of the standard for a full crop. The area of oats in the Dominion is 3,302,000 acres, which is 1,361,500 acres more than last year, and its condition is reported as 92.35 per cent. Barley, the cereal crop next in importance has a total area of 1,864,960 acres, or 119,200 acres more than last year, and its condition is 91.49 per cent. The province of Ontario shows the largest area of oats, with 5,142,200 acres, and also the largest area of hay and clover, with 3,535,600 acres. Quebec is next highest in hay and clover, with 2,923,600 acres. This province has also 1,574,100 acres of oats. Saskatchewan has 1,847,000 acres in oats, 1,300,000 acres of hay and clover, and 820,000 acres. In the maritime provinces, the total area in oats is 529,000 acres.

At the end of June, 1906, there were 123,398 farms in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and in 1908 the number had increased to 190,234, or by 10,855,760 acres. In Manitoba the net increase of the two and one half years was 4,393; in Saskatchewan, 41,423; and in Alberta 22,020. But these figures do not take account of farm lands purchased from the C. P. R. by individuals and other corporations in the same period. The large increases in Saskatchewan have been in the regions south of the main line of the C. P. R. and in the western and northern districts. In Alberta they have been made south of the C. P. R. and in the eastern ranges of the townships north of the railway.

The drought of summer and autumn was less severe last year than in 1907, but it had the effect of again reducing the number of farm animals in the older provinces. In one county of Canada horses exceed the number of last year by 14,324, while milk cows are less by 68,440, other horned cattle by 245,057, sheep by 125,014 and swine by 457,349. The largest falling off in one case occurred in Quebec and Ontario.

CARE OF YOUTHS

Superintendent of Provincial Industrial School to Look Into Methods Elsewhere

Vancouver, June 24.—Juvenile delinquents are worth saving. The provincial government, particularly the attorney-general's department, which is responsible for the management of the provincial industrial school and the welfare of the erring youths within the older provinces, in one way or another, being firmly of this view, are determined that this institution shall have the most modern and effective method for the conversion of juvenile offenders into self-reliant and self-supporting citizens of the future.

To this end, Attorney-General Bowser, before leaving for his recent tour of Europe and the British Isles, authorized Superintendent Donaldson and Mrs. Donaldson, who is the matron of the home, to visit the most important of the American and Canadian industrial schools.

On Saturday the superintendent and his wife will leave for the east on this mission. After making a careful study of the various systems of reform in vogue on this side of the Atlantic they will extend their mission to England. They will be absent for at least four months.

Winnipeg's Fair Project.

Winnipeg, June 24.—D. C. Cameron, Horner Chrysler and E. D. Martin leave for Ottawa tomorrow to impress upon the Dominion government the advisability and desirability of the proposed Selkirk centennial exposition and to induce the government to lend financial assistance to this project.

BIG ADDITION TO POWER PLANT

B. C. Electric Company Will Increase Its Store Street Auxiliary Plant

The B. C. Electric Company will make a big addition to its plant on Store street, whereby additional power to the amount of about 750 horse power will be provided. The steam plant, which has been formerly in use at Vancouver, has been brought to Victoria, and work on the erection of a power house will commence at once. The contract for the work has been let to Malcolm & Dinsdale.

The cost of the erection of the power house and installation of the plant will be in the neighborhood of $50,000. The power house will be situated on the Government street side of the Rock Bay bridge at the water's edge, and a great deal of work and a large outlay will be necessitated by the driving of piles on which the concrete foundations of the power house will rest. The building will be of brick and two storeys in height, will be commodious, and will constitute a valuable addition to the company's Store street plant.

The plant to be installed will be similar to that already installed in the company's present auxiliary plant. The installation of the plant will be completed in plenty of time to permit of the additional power which will be produced, being used this winter. The new plant will serve the electric lighting service of the company, while the present plant will develop power for the street railway service exclusively.

Last winter when the present steam plant was supplying power for both street railway and lighting services the company was hard put to it to give an adequate service, but with the new addition to its auxiliary plant no difficulty will be experienced during the coming winter should there be another failure of the water power.

COLLIERY FOR WEST COAST

Victorians Stake Out Rich Coal Measures in Nootka District

Work upon the first colliery to be established on the West Coast of Vancouver Island will be commenced within a short time at a point in the neighborhood of the northern extremity of Nootka Sound. A large coal area, the continuation of the Comox measures, has been staked on the West Coast by M. King and a number of other Victorians, and Mr. King states that the colliery will be established in the near future.

Although the knowledge was not common property, it has been known for some time past that the Comox coal measures stretched right across the island. Along the west coast in the neighborhood of Nootka Sound there are outcroppings at different points.

The establishment of a colliery and a coal port on the west coast will open up new possibilities to the shipping of the North Pacific coast. Vessels going there to coal will escape the pilotage fees charged for traversing the Straits of Georgia on the way to Nanaimo or Comox. When ocean vessels are entering Prince Rupert the nearest coal point for them on this coast will be at Nootka, and it is certain that on these accounts a large shipping trade will be built up.

GETS CHEAP DRINKS

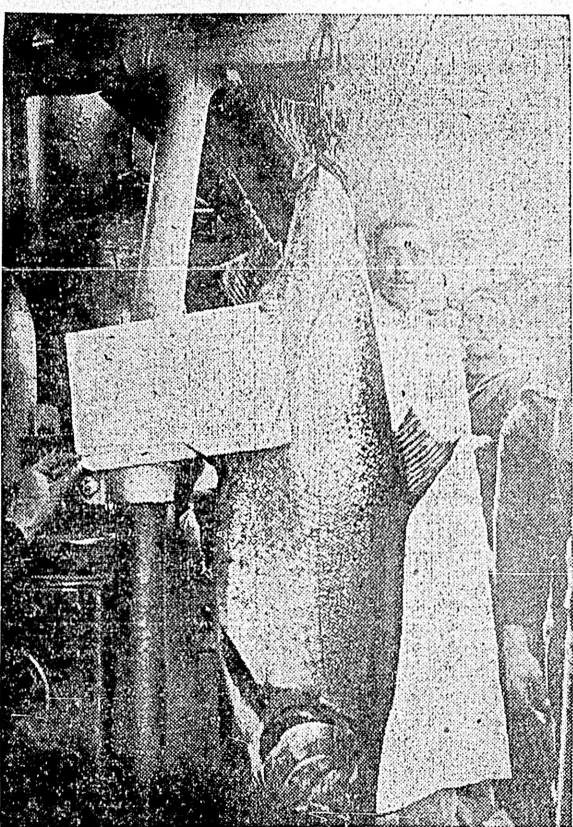

Jack McArthur, Gigantic Logger, Casts Evil Eye on Vancouver Bartenders

Vancouver, June 24.—Jack McArthur, a logger with a giant build, was sentenced to three months at hard labor by Magistrate Williams this morning. Jack has been soused for fully a month, and on account of his size and great strength the police frequently were asked to round him up as a matter of precaution. They found Jack last night sufficiently under the influence to make his capture in safety, and haled him to court this morning. For a short while there was considerable inquiry as to how the logger managed to keep loaded all the time, yet still never was seen with money to buy drinks. Detective Sergeant Jackson testified that Jack used the "evil eye" on practically all the barkeepers in the lower quarter, and that on numerous occasions he had seen Jack meander into saloons, and the whiskey would be set before him without his saying a word. The sergeant explained that the bartenders found it much easier to set up the whiskey on Jack's appearance than to chance the inevitable rough house which would be the consequence of a refusal.

A Salmon Caught off Porcher Island

Salmon caught by Lieut. Grant, of H.M.S. Egeria

The above is a cut of one of the largest salmon caught this year on the Pacific coast. It was killed by Lieut. Alan Grant, of H.M.S. Egeria, in Refuge Bay, Porcher Island. It weighed 64½ pounds, was 4 feet 2 inches in length, and had a girth of 2 feet 7½ inches. It took an hour to land the big fellow, and before he was gaffed he had towed the boat two miles out to sea.

This year's record is probably held by D'Arcy Tate, solicitor of the G.T.P., who killed a salmon off Kitimat

LINEMAN'S MISHAP

His Feet Ground on Transformer and He Has Narrow Escape From Death

Vancouver, B. C., June 24.—While stringing wires for the new police patrol alarm system, at ten o'clock this morning, E. Moore, an itinerant lineman, narrowly missed electrocution. Both of his feet grounded on a transformer. As he was caught and firmly held by the current, he shouted for assistance at the top of his voice. After some trouble, firemen with ladders extricated him. Hoies were burned through the soles of both shoes, and his feet were severely blistered. A crowd gathered near the foot of the pole watching the wireman in his grim fight with imminent death. The poor fellow cried piteously with pain, while the people below were unable to assist him. The current was turned off, but by an error came on again as he was trying to descend, when the current again went through his burning flesh. His cries were heartrending.

G. T. P. at Saskatoon
Winnipeg, June 24.—"So far as I know it is not," said George W. Caye, assistant to General Manager Chamberlain, of the G. T. P., this morning, in answer to a question whether the report from Saskatoon that his road would enter that city over the Canadian Pacific tracks was correct.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.
(Incorporated by the State of New York. Stock Company)
JOHN R. HEGEMAN, President

GREAT REDUCTION OF EXPENSES--INCREASED BENEFITS--LOWER RATES
INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

In January, 1907, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company largely increased the benefits in its Industrial policies by reason of a heavy reduction in expenses and improvement in mortality experience.

During the past three years the Company has steadily reduced its expenses, so that it is enabled to make a further increase in benefits. Industrial insurance policies have a unit of weekly premium—three cents, five cents and multiples thereof—and the amount of insurance varies with the age.

All Industrial Life policies (premiums cease after age 74), Endowment policies at age 80 and Adult Twenty-year Endowment

Policies issued since Jan. 1, 1907, will be increased in benefits about ten per cent, according to a new table of benefits adopted for policies issued after July 1, 1909. In other words, not only does the Company issue a new table for policies hereafter issued, but it makes the increase retroactive since the present form of Limited Payment and Endowment at age 80 policies were adopted.

Upon the OLD INDUSTRIAL POLICIES the Company is paying out TWO AND A HALF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN BONUSES THIS YEAR, bringing up the total Bonuses and Concessions upon Industrial policies to EIGHTEEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN SIXTEEN YEARS. This is OVER AND ABOVE ANY AND ALL OBLIGATIONS expressed or implied in the policies.

The Metropolitan in its Industrial Department has the lowest Ratio of Expense of all the Industrial Insurance Companies in the world which pay immediate benefits. In FIVE YEARS its

Ratio of Expense to Premium Income has been Reduced
8 per cent, representing an

Annual Saving of Three and a Half Millions of Dollars

The new Convertible policy issued by the Company is a novel form of insurance which becomes fully paid-up life insurance in a few years and is then automatically converted into endowment insurance, the maturity of which is periodically shortened as payment of premiums continues.

The Company is abreast of the public demand for combination of term insurance and annuities, and serves the public better than any other agency.

INDUSTRIAL POLICIES IN FORCE: NEARLY 9,500,000, INSURING NEARLY $1,500,000,000.

ORDINARY DEPARTMENT
The Company has reduced expenses six per cent. in this Department in the last FIVE years—representing an ANNUAL SAVING OF OVER A MILLION AND A QUARTER OF DOLLARS IN THE ORDINARY DEPARTMENT.

The Company issues policies in the Ordinary Department in amounts from $500 to $1,000,000 upon all approved plans at the lowest rates. IN 1908 IT WROTE MORE PAID-FOR BUSINESS IN ITS ORDINARY OLD LINE INSURANCE (exclusive of Industrial), in the United States and Canada, THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY.

All of its policies in the Ordinary as well as the Industrial Department are written on the non-participating plan. The Metropolitan pays its dividends at the start—that is to say, it cuts down the premiums. It believes the plain, common-sense men who make up the bulk of policyholders look for a plain business contract. By plain business contracts we mean those which tell their whole story upon their face; which leave nothing to the imagination, borrow nothing from hope, require definite conditions and make definite promises in dollars and cents.

In both Departments combined the Company has, in each of the past fifteen years, written more paid-for insurance than any other company in the world

The Company upon Its Total Business Has in the Last Ten Years Reduced Its Ratio of Expenses to Premium Income Fifteen Per Cent

GROGERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Visiting Wholesalers Entertained at Enjoyable Banquet at Empress

The Canada wholesale grocers exchange opened their annual meeting in this city yesterday afternoon at the board of trade rooms, some twenty delegates from different parts of the Dominion being present. The business carried out was purely of a routine character, although two subjects of interest to the public at large came up for discussion.

Discussing the question of the "uniformity of terms," a resolution was passed recognizing the importance of the observance by each wholesale grocer, in doing business in provinces outside his own, of the selling terms adopted by such provinces. The exchange expressed its entire approval of the arrangement arrived at between the railway companies and the Canadian shippers' bill of lading committee as to the terms of a simple and uniform bill of lading to apply to all the railways under the control of the railway commission, and congratulated the committee on the satisfactory outcome of its work, which it was hoped would meet with the approval of the railway commission.

The exchange then adjourned until this morning at ten o'clock. In the evening a most enjoyable banquet was given to the visitors at the Empress hotel. Simon Leiser, as president of the Victoria and Vancouver grocers' exchange, was in the chair. The arrangements were carried out in the usual excellent style of the Empress, and the visitors expressed themselves in the most laudatory terms on the manner in which they were entertained.

After the toast of "The King" had been drunk, Mr. Lockyear proposed that of "The Government of Canada." The government of this country, he said, conveyed a vast thought, a country stretching from Halifax to Victoria, from the north pole to the 49th parallel, peopled by inhabitants from practically all quarters of the globe, engaged in practically every occupation under the sun. With considerations of this magnitude the government of such a country was no light task.

Duty of the Press.

The speaker went on to allude to the press. There were, he said, to speak from a local standpoint, in Victoria and Vancouver some excellent newspapers, which in many respects compare most favorably with those published in the larger eastern cities. But it would seem that it is a question if they are doing their part in creating that Canadian spirit that is so essential to a young nation. Referring to the item of parliamentary proceedings, he pointed out that more often than not while the Dominion house was in session, no information of the previous day's doings were available here at all following day. If referred to at all, they came under the head of brief telegraphic items. There was a great need for news of Canada, news that will educate, and there should be a circulation of knowledge as to what the law makers at Ottawa are saying. The result of the present skeletonized news is that the people out here are out of touch with Dominion affairs.

Continuing, the speaker said that he felt sure that Canada had a very great future as a nation within the Empire, but the people must remember that greatness brings responsibilities. Canada could not go on for ever living content to nestle under the sheltering wing of the grand old Mother Country. She must be prepared to stand on her own feet, to take her own share of responsibility and expense of Empire. He concluded by proposing the toast in question, coupled with the name of Mr. Auguste Carrier, M.P., for Levis, Que.

French Canadian Loyalty

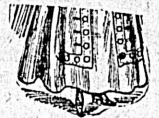

Mr. Carrier in reply said that he had always been proud of his nationality, but the present trip had made him prouder than ever. He advocated that all the prominent men in the old country should as quickly as possible get to know the great possibilities of the Dominion. He regretted to say that the people of British Columbia had a prejudice against French Canadians (cries of No, No). He might be wrong but that was the impression in the East today. This very day the French Canadians were celebrating the natal day of St. Denis. This saint stood in the same relation to Canada as St. George stood to England, and yet today, he said, there were thousands of his countrymen shouting God Save the King, the great and good man who had brought about the Entente Cordiale. The King, he said, had succeeded in uniting together the two nations who fought in the past. The French Canadians in Quebec wanted to be loyal, in fact in his opinion they were the only loyal people in Canada today. He then reviewed the history of the French Canadians, showing that since 1793 they had always been fighting in the ranks of the British. Canada, he said, would not still be a British colony had it not been for the French Canadians. Whatever happens they would always be found fighting on the side of England.

Province's Policy

D. R. Ker responded on behalf of the government. He apologized for the absence of Hon. Captain R. G. Tallow. The policy of the British Columbia government, he said, was to make this this western end of Canada known from one end of the Dominion to the other, as well as in all parts of the world, and he alluded to the eulogistic fashion in which Mr. Tallow had employed his time when in England by delivering a series of lectures on the wonderful possibilities of this province. Simon Leiser, chairman, proposed the toast of "Our Guests." He extended a hearty welcome to the delegates, saying that in his opinion the prosperity of Canada was largely due to the work of the Canada Wholesale Exchange.

The proceedings came to a conclusion with the singing of God Save the King.

BIG WORK DELAYED

Construction of Grand Trunk Pacific Shops Hindered by Negligence of Commissioners

Winnipeg, June 24.—Because of the refusal of the J. D. McArthur Company to allow them to haul material over some three miles of the new National Transcontinental railway line just outside of St. Boniface, the contractors for the new Grand Trunk Pacific shops, Haney, Quinlan and Robertson, have been prevented from starting work, and some three weeks of valuable time has been wasted. The hitch has been caused by the failure of the Transcontinental commissioners to live up to a clause in the contract with the construction firm, namely, that trains of material should be allowed right of way along the new grade free of charge. The McArthur Company wants to charge mileage for hauling the material for the three miles of grade to the crossing of the Transcontinental railway and the Dundee branch of the Canadian Northern and the site of the shops.

In the meantime the progress of a million dollar work is obstructed, hundreds of workmen are idle, and material is lying at the head of the lakes and at Winnipeg awaiting transportation.

KILLARNEY DISASTER

Bodies of Three Women Recovered—Drowning Caused by Waves Swamping Boat

Killarney, June 24.—The inquiry into the deaths of four English and five American travellers and two boatmen, who were drowned yesterday by the swamping of their boat on Lower Killarney Lake, was begun by the coroner this afternoon. The two boatmen who were rescued, however, were not sufficiently recovered to give evidence. Leary, one of the boatmen, stated tonight that a large wave swamped the boat, and successive waves, which were running high, threw all the passengers into the water. They called for help, but only two of them were able to hold out until assistance came. The body of one of the victims was identified this afternoon as Mrs. H. W. Coburn, Lowell, Mass., who arrived here on June 22. The two other bodies recovered were those of Englishwomen.

Twelve Miners Injured, Some Fatally, by Cage Dropping to Bottom

Terre Haute, Ind., June 24.—Twelve foreign miners were injured today when the cage at the Klondike coal mine No. 4, near the town, fell from the pit opening to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 315 feet. Several of the men are expected to die from their injuries. To add to the horror of the accident, the cage going up became fast when the cables became entangled and an hour elapsed before a rescue party could be sent to the bottom of the mine.

Rev. Dr. Campbell, pastor of the church presided, and in his opening remarks referred to the good work done by the Ladies' Aid societies of all the churches and First Presbyterian church in particular, also referred to the 17 years of his pastorate just concluded yesterday. The programme was well rendered, and thoroughly enjoyed, the following ladies and gentlemen took part: Misses Black, Sexsmith, Wilson, J. Wilson, Harkness and McKenzie, and Messrs. Redman, Morrison and Brown. Mrs. Lewis Hall acting as the accompanist.

CZAR COMPROMISES

Suit at Winnipeg to Recover Stolen Money From Absconding Official Has Been Settled

Winnipeg, June 24.—The famous legal case in which the Czar of Russia sought to recover through the Canadian courts at least a portion of the large sums stolen by Ivan Proskowickoff, a defaulting official who had been in charge of the administration of a trans-Caucasian province, has at last been settled by a mutual agreement after nearly two years of litigation and an appeal to the supreme court.

Proskowickoff absconded and made his way to Canada via Japan, bringing with him a large amount of money, which he afterwards invested in Winnipeg real estate and western lands and also purchased a stock of Oriental goods preparatory to opening a business here. Later he was joined by a woman, supposed to be his wife, who was regarded by the police as a dangerous and uncompromising nihilist.

DEATH IN AUTO WRECK

Wife of Dupont Powder Works Superintendent Killed in New York State Journey

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24.—Mrs. John Matthews, wife of the superintendent of the Dupont powder works at Wilmington, Del., was instantly killed last night in an automobile accident near Amenia, N. Y. Mrs. Matthews was with her husband and daughter and two nephews and two nieces on a trip to the Berkshires. All were thrown out when control of the car was lost and running at a mile a minute speed when descending Delevan hill, the machine turning completely over when a tire burst near the bottom of the hill. Mrs. Matthews was thrown against a tree and her neck broken. The other members of the party, stunned and bruised in the crash, were sufficiently recovered today to start on their return trip with Mrs. Matthews' body.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, June 24.—The bodies of William Harrison, a janitor, and a young woman believed to be a Miss Barnes, were found today in Harrison's room in a lodging house.

A revolver with four of its chambers empty was found at the man's feet, and it is believed he shot the woman and then killed himself.

The cause of the double tragedy cannot be determined until the identity of the woman is definitely ascertained.

She was known to none of the inmates of the house, and the name of Miss Barnes is believed to have been assumed, as the dead woman wore a wedding ring. She was 23 years of age and fully dressed.

RESTLESS INDIANS.

The papers have recently had some references to the attitude of the Indians on the Naas river and other points north of the Skeena in regard to the influx of white people. It has been known for some time that they were disposed to resent any interference with the freedom of unrestricted occupation which they have hitherto enjoyed over that part of the province, and it was expected by those in a position to judge that as soon as there appeared to be any probability of the country being settled to any large extent, a certain amount of friction would arise. As yet, nothing to create an alarming situation has occurred, but it is very clear that an understanding must be reached if future trouble is to be avoided. We are informed that a representative of the Department of Indian Affairs is either now on his way to the coast or is to start immediately to confer with the Indians and arrive at some satisfactory settlement. The reason given for delay in his arrival is that the season being late it was deemed impracticable to reach the Indians sooner.

Our information is that the Naas Indians have raised a fund of $500, and have sought the advice of counsel in the East as to the extent of their rights, and that the opinion given them has been favorable to their claims. It is alleged further that the Naas Indians have invited the Port Simpson Indians to contribute to a fund to test their legal status in the courts, and that the West Coast Indians have been approached with a similar request.

We hope that we are correctly informed on these points, for it is very desirable that an understanding should be reached with the Indians at an early day, so that the settlement of the northern country will not be retarded by reason of any friction with them. We do not understand that the Indians object to the presence of white settlers as a general proposition. They are ready to concede that their position has been bettered by reason of the presence of the white race and the establishment of orderly conditions, so that among them life and property are as safe as anywhere in the world. Neither do they object, as we understand the matter, to the establishment of reservations; but they are restless at the idea of being confined to the reservations while there are tens of thousands of square miles of unoccupied crown lands over which they might hunt and almost numberless streams wherein they might fish. As they understand the matter, they were to enjoy this right of hunting and fishing without interference, and it is proper to say that the correspondence between Governor Douglas and the Colonial Department bears out this view. If they have to surrender this right, if they are to permit the white population to occupy the country without let or hindrance of any kind, they think they ought to be compensated. They say that they have never been consulted, and that they have made no treaty of any kind with the government whereby such rights as they may possess have been extinguished. Doubtless their present attitude is due in part to the influence of bad advisers; but there is a strong element of reason in their contention, and even if it cannot be sustained in law, it ought in fairness to be recognised. We do not regard the question as one for the courts, because, even if the Indians should lose their case, it would still be necessary to reach a settlement with them. The idea that they shall be allowed to remain lords and masters of the extensive areas, which are fit for settlement and only of a sentimental value to them, cannot be entertained.

Having thus explained the nature of the case, we deem it best to defer any further discussion of it until after the officers of the Indian Department have had an opportunity to negotiate with the Indians. We look for much good to come out of the present situation, because it will lead to an understanding between the government and the Indians as to their future relations. The issue that has arisen is by no means unexpected, and it cannot be disposed of any too soon.

SCARES AND SUCH THINGS

The German war scare is subsiding. The Colonist having declined to follow the lead of certain very prominent English papers in this matter, some of its readers may not have realized the hysterical character of this agitation which had for its basis the alleged intention of Germany to invade England without notice and the alleged inability of England to resist invasion.

One of the features of the collapse of the "scare" is the effort of some of the papers, which fostered it, to prove that the Asquith ministry were responsible for it. The people of England have been made to look supremely silly, and it is not surprising that those, who were to blame, are anxious to lay the responsibility upon others. As a matter of fact it was chiefly politics and pretty poor politics at that. A German war scare, a fantastic imperialism and a crude fiscal policy formed a triad of absurdities, where-with those, who are assuming to guide the destinies of Britain, and bring it back to the Conservative fold, sought to stampede the people.

Those of us, who have been accustomed for any length of time to note the development of British public opinion and the manner in which it found expression, have been sadly at sea since the Campbell-Bannerman ministry came into power and a new school of journalism conceived itself born to set the world right. First we were treated to heroic doses of Chamberlainism. Those who remember the early radicalism of the distinguished gentleman from Birmingham were not a little surprised to see him become the Conservative Apostle to the Gentiles, the people of the Colonies being the gentiles. When a few people ventured to suggest that Mr. Chamberlain's panacea for all the ills the British peoples are heir to smelt of political quackery, they forthwith became anathema. Mr. Balfour, who has a discriminating mind, refused to be taken into camp by the Chamberlainites, and he was a sore subject for many of them. He played with the new theory as with a golf ball to such an extent that his attitude towards it was a favorite subject with the cartoonists, and when he adopted it, he so changed it that its father has never recognized it. Then came the Imperialistic fad. People talked about the word, and wrote about the word, and grew enthusiastic over the word, but not a man of them could define the word to save his soul, much less make a practical suggestion to promote imperial solidarity. Of expedients, which, if the British people would adopt them, would tend to weaken the Empire in a score of directions, there were many. Then a sane man, Viscount Milner talked some sense about it, and being a man of prominence his words had weight, although he did not say anything especially new. After that came the German war scare. There never was anything like it, not even when the three tailors of Tooley street addressed Napoleon III. as "We, the people of England." It culminated in that monumental absurdity "An Englishman's Home," at which all the world laughed, after the first few weeks of its presentation.

Happily the signs of returning sanity are many. Now we are being told that tariff reform is a question for the people of the United Kingdom to settle as it affects themselves, and when that has been done the fiscal arrangements of the Mother Country and the Overseas Dominions can be adjusted as seems best for their mutual interests. Now it is conceded that the various parts of the Empire must work out their various problems as best they can, as equals determining their relations to each other as experience shows is advisable. The war scare has been allowed to lapse into innocuous desuetude. As we always like to be optimistic, we will concede that good may come out of all the exaggeration and hysterics to which the Northcliffe and Pearson publications have been treating us; but there will inevitably be some loss of self-respect on the part of the English people and some abatement of their dignity before the world. It is pleasing to observe that the dominant note of the speeches at the Press Conference has been that of common sense. The hard-headed practical and sober minded sentiment of the British people is making itself felt.

THE TERRITORIAL FORCE

The London Times has paid a great deal of attention to the Territorial Force, which is Mr. Haldane's contribution to the solution of the military question in the United Kingdom, and after a full review has felt able to say that "there is ground for general satisfaction at the way in which the country as a whole has responded to Mr. Haldane's need." It points out, however, that an important test is yet to come, namely as to how many of the men will re-enlist for a second year's service. In order to give the fullest possible effect to the voluntary system, Mr. Haldane's plan only provides for enlistment for a year, wherein there is a difference between the volunteer force under the old system, in which enlistment continued until resignation. Apparently this weakness of the present system is more apparent than real, for the Times says that between 40,000 and 50,000 men were free to resign during the month of June, but none of them had up to June 3rd signified their intention of doing so, although it adds that they may be automatically struck off the list, unless they signify their intention to re-engage. It suggests that the regulation should be altered in this respect. Of the material of the force the Times says: "The physique of the new force is on the whole very satisfactory, and in some cases excellent. The reports of the conduct of the men in camp—which often varied considerably in former days—have been highly satisfactory, and there is little doubt that the new force has secured a large proportion of men who are thoroughly bent on making their work a reality."

Indeed, the comments of the Times are highly favorable. It points out that much distrust was felt in regard to the operation of the County Associations, but says that all fears on this score have been dissipated and that the Associations have worked "with whole-hearted activity and with much success." It suggests that as soon as the Associations get in full working order, they should establish cadet corps, from which the Territorial Force can be recruited, and a Territorial Reserve to be made up of men who have resigned from the force. It also suggests that the Associations should interest themselves in the welfare of Army Reservists and old soldiers, who now find in many cases much difficulty in securing employment. It goes without saying that if steps were taken to prevent men, who have served in the regular forces, from being confronted with poverty in their retirement, the service would become more attractive than it now is. In regard to the training which the Territorials receive, which is the whole crux of the situation, for numbers count for very little without training, while the Times thinks it too soon to express a definite opinion on the subject, it is very much impressed with the probable results. It says that the citizen soldiers are receiving better training than ever before and are showing themselves more eager than ever to take advantage of it, and this observation applies as well to non-commissioned officers and men as to those holding commissions. The following is the concluding part of the Times' article: "Whatever view is taken of the sufficiency of the Territorial Force for our national needs, its great merit is that it is undeniably a move forward along useful lines. There is no question here of expenditure which may be useless, or of progress down a cul-de-sac. If the need is recognized later for some more general form of military training, the work of Mr. Haldane will serve as a firm and ample foundation for the necessary superstructure. The organization of the new force is striking firm root throughout the country, and drawing into itself a new fund of national purpose and vigor."

State of Washington lawyers are of the opinion that the anti-cigarette law will be knocked out in the first round if anyone stands up against it.

It is very satisfactory to learn that the crop reports issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company show conditions in the prairie provinces to be much better than for some years. With wheat from ten to fifteen inches high, and plenty of moisture in the ground, a bumper crop seems assured.

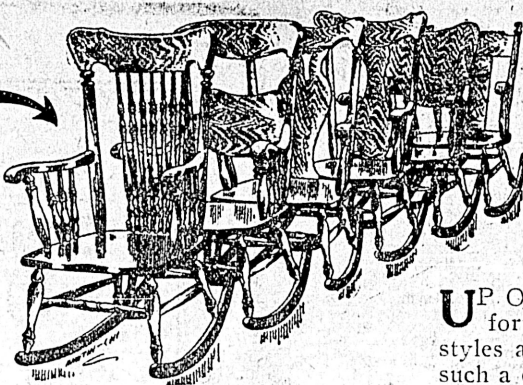

The area of the South African confederation will be approximately 500,000 square miles; the population is about 5,000,000, of whom 1,000,000 are white people. Parliament will be made up of 51 members from Cape Colony, 36 from Transvaal, 17 from the Orange Free State province, as it is to be called, and 17 from Natal. This distribution gives the English-speaking people an advantage, which is likely to increase as time passes. Capetown is to be the capital.

The Ottawa Citizen is not very far astray in objecting to Canadian Militia regiments going across the border to help celebrate the Fourth of July. As long as our neighbors show such abominable silliness in regard to the Upton Jack, it is just as well to let them do their own celebrating. The reason we say this is because any ordinary courtesy extended by the people of Canada to the United States is construed in that country as a recognition of their assumed superiority over the rest of mankind.

The Canadian Mail is a penny paper issued in London and it is going to deal with things Canadian. It quotes Mr. C. M. Hays of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway as saying that after the Panama Canal is opened he expects Prince Rupert to become one of the very great grain ports of the world. He says that in his lifetime the G. T. Pacific will haul as much grain to the Pacific as to the Atlantic, and that the volume of traffic, which will be developed, "will throw far more business upon our existing lines than they can possibly handle." He calls the prairie country "a three hundred million acre farm."

The man with the forked hazel twig sometimes finds water, although we can all demonstrate the absurdity of such a thing. But even the most expert of this class of water-finders must take of his hat to Mr. N. H. Darton, a geologist employed by the United States geological survey. The Burlington Railway company wanted a well in a dry place and consulted Mr. Darton about it. He studied the situation and said that water-bearing sandstone would be found at a depth not to exceed 3,000 feet. Borings were made and at 2,980 feet a flow of half a million gallons a day under a pressure of 75 pounds to the square inch was secured.

Every one, who has read or sung Bishop Heber's famous hymn, must have wondered how "Africa's sunny fountains" could "roll down their golden sand"; but as every one knew that the Bishop did not expect to be taken literally, they went on singing it. Now the Rev. Dawson Burns, D. D., proposes that the hymn shall be changed to read: "that bathe their golden sand." Against this we protest. The next thing we know some one will want to change the words of the National Anthem. Poetry is Poetry and hymnology is hymnology. A poem or a hymn—and all hymns are not poems by a long shot, is valuable not so much for what it says as for the sentiment it soaks up. Therein it resembles a sponge, which similitude, be it remarked, was not discovered by the Colonist.

THANKSGIVING IN HONOR OF JUBILEE

Solemn Service at Christ Church Cathedral—Session of the Clericus

The thanksgiving service in honor of the jubilee of the creation of the diocese of Victoria took place last evening in Christ church cathedral when His Lordship the Right Rev. Dr. Perrin, bishop of Columbia, was the preacher.

The members of the clericus attended in a body, the bishops and ministers wearing vestments and cassocks. A massed choir of the city churches was in attendance and the service was a most impressive one.

Bishop Perrin delivered an eloquent address, tracing the progress of the diocese in its fifty years of life and urging further efforts on the part of clergy and laity.

The offertory will be devoted to the new cathedral building fund.

The day was opened with the celebration of Holy Eucharist at 8 a. m. at the cathedral, the lord bishop of Columbia being the celebrant, assisted by the Bishop of Olympia, Ven. Archdeacon Scriven, and Rev. John Grundy.

Mattins were said at 10 a. m.

The clericus then assembled as a conference on parochial organization under the chairmanship of Dr. Perrin. Some time was taken up in the discussion of where the next clericus should be held and the claims of Walla Walla were pressed by Rev. W. C. Shaw. The matter was finally referred to a committee consisting of Rev. M. Bywater, Rev. W. B. Allen and Rev. A. U. de Pencier to report upon the matter later.

A prayer of thanksgiving for the preservation of the Ven. Archdeacon Collison, who lately narrowly escaped drowning, was then offered by the bishop of the diocese.

Provincial Organization

The Lord Bishop of Caledonia when the question of provincial organization came up protested against its being formally treated by the clericus. He pointed out that neither clerical nor lay delegates from his diocese had been invited.

A general discussion, however, took place on the subject in which Ven. Archdeacon Pentreath took part. He referred to the likelihood of the eastern provinces being shortly subdivided. Why should this matter not be taken up by the dioceses west of the Rocky mountains? All recognized that unity was strength and here was the means that the church had adopted from the earliest times by forming provinces under metropolitan.

Common action could be taken on many vexed questions. There were the problems of the Oriental races present here, of the school question and the financial question for diocesan and missionary purposes. There was also the question of the appointment of coadjutor bishops.

The Bishop of Olympia showed how the provincial idea was worked out in the United States. The American church had eight missionary departments, the eighth department of which, Olympia apart, had fourteen bishops. They did not care for titles but there was no doubt that the title of archbishop would be given to the presiding bishop of the department.

What the church really wanted, however, was the extension of the Kingdom of God and full missionary efficacy.

The Rev. A. U. de Pencier, of Vancouver, also spoke at some length upon strengthening the work of the church in provincial organization. Why not fall in line with the action of the province of Ontario and the great northwestern province of Rupert land. The Rev. A. E. O'Meara raised some questions as to jurisdiction and the power of legislating, quoting from proceedings of the general synod of the church in the Dominion of Canada. He brought many subjects before the meeting upon which united organization would be most helpful.

Lindley Crease, chancellor of the diocese of Columbia, spoke upon the legal points raised. He pointed out that the clericus could not legislate in provincial matters. It must be a union of synods entering the union sending delegates to complete final arrangements.

Rev. C. E. Cooper, as did also Mr. H. S. Crotty, strongly advocated the provincial system. New life would be put into the church which is so needed for coping with growing problems, missionary and otherwise. He again used the motto "Unity is strength."

Finally a resolution was offered to the meeting as follows:

"That in the opinion of those present it is desirable to have organization by which conference and co-operation between dioceses of the Canadian church lying to the west of the Rocky mountains shall be rendered possible and that the questions whether such organization shall be that of the formation of a province be laid before all synods interested. The resolution, moved by Rev. A. E. O'Meara, seconded by Rev. A. U. de Pencier, carried, and the clericus adjourned.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW STREET, VICTORIA, B.C.

Plant under course of erection at Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

ASSETS

The company have acquired 55,669 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

WATER POWER

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000-inch water record on Marble creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h. p. This creek derives its source from three lakes, 20 miles in length, and is thus permanent the year round.

CAPACITY OF PLANT

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

COST OF MANUFACTURE

With our tremendous pulp limits which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $30.00 per ton; at present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

LOCAL MARKETS

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers of Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

FOREIGN MARKETS

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

FREIGHT RATES TO ORIENT

A freight rate from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper, as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe; being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills, we not only are able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

NATURAL ADVANTAGES OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood; one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four-foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

PROGRESS OF WORK

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Chas. B. Fride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than 50 of the leading mills of the country, and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Repairing Fire Engines.

The work of repairing the Waterous fire engine which has been out of commission for over a year will be completed within a day or two. New tubes have been fitted in the engine which when completed will be as good as new and materially add to the efficiency of the department.

Injured by Explosion.

Through the explosion of carbide in the gas buoy at Skidegate, Gordon Halkett, inspector of lighthouses, and a man named Dennis were badly injured on Wednesday, according to advices received by Captain Gaudin, agent of marine and fisheries. Mr. Halkett was badly burned about the face and chest, the two men were taken from Skidegate to Prince Rupert on the Newington, and are now in hospital.

"At Home" at Gorge.

Today the Daughters of Pity will be "at home" at the Gorge Park. In white dresses with the red cross badge, they will serve refreshments at the Japanese Tea Grounds, and have devised many contests for the amusement of all their young friends as well as other visitors. They have secured the services of several fortune tellers noted for their occult powers. At night the choir of the Presbyterian church will give a Scottish concert. From three o'clock in the afternoon until night these young ladies will see that all who find their way to the park shall spend a merry time.

Salvation Army Entertainment.

A band recital will be held in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad street, Monday evening. The programme is an exceptionally good one, several well-known musicians having promised to take part. Among others, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Longfield will contribute violin and vocal solos, and Miss Evans will recite. Mrs. (Mayor) Hall will be accompanist and Captain McGrath, who has been in the Salvation Army for a short time instructing the S. A. band, will be conductor. Bandmaster Redburn, of Vancouver, who is known in Ontario and the west as a musician, will assist. The chair will be taken by the Rev. T. E. Holling, at 8:15. Tickets can be obtained from the local bandmen, or at the door.

Rose Show Next Week.

Active preparations for the annual rose show to be held under the auspices of the Victoria Horticultural Society next week in Assembly Rink, are being made, and this year's show promises to be remarkable not only in point of number of entries but in the exceptional quality thereof. Under the direction of Mrs. Henry Croft, the rink will be handsomely decorated. Miss Angus will have charge of refreshments. Miss Thal's orchestra has been engaged. Entries will be received until the morning of Tuesday next. A. Virtue of the Oak Bay hotel, has offered a special prize for the largest and best collection of roses, to be a separate entry, and be judged for quality as well as quantity.

Bandits Still at Large.

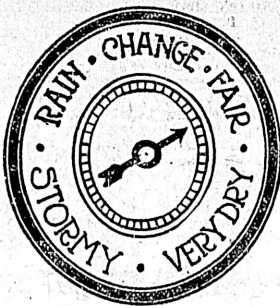

No word has as yet reached the provincial police department here to the effect that any trace of the hold-up men who robbed a C. P. train at Ducks on the night of Tuesday last has been secured. Advices to Superintendent of Provincial Police Hussey state that every effort is being made to run the bandits down. Sergeant Murray has arrived at the scene of the robbery and is assisting in the search. Inspector McMullin of Fernie arrived at Ducks last night and with Chief Constable Fernie, of Kamloops, will head the man hunt. The whole country is now being patrolled by a posse headed by Inspector Murray. It is expected that the perpetrators of the robbery will be rounded up before they can escape across the boundary.

Tramway Company Wins.

In the county court yesterday Judge Lauman dismissed the action brought against the B. C. Electric company by the Windsor Grocery company, which was suing for damages on account of injuries sustained by one of their delivery wagons in a collision with a car. The defendants' story was that the wagon was being driven along the car on the right side of the track. If it had continued where it was all would have been well, but on the near approach of the car with the bell ringing the driver turned his wagon across the track in an effort to get further away, with the result that a collision resulted before the car could be pulled up. This view prevailed over the driver's story that he was driving with one wheel in the track on the left side, and that the car bumped into him from behind without warning. W. H. Langley appeared for the plaintiff and A. E. McPhillips, K. C., for the defendant company.

Appointed Mare Inspector

Mr. G. H. Hadwen, of Dunsmuir, B. C., has been appointed inspector of Columbia, viz. a mare of suitable hackney type, preferably bred by a registered stallion of one of the recognized light breeds, and passed by Mr. Hadwen, will be entered in the hackney stud book as an inspected mare. Filly foals from her by a registered hackney horse will be entitled to half registration. The next cross, if female, would be entitled to full registration. The method of grading up affords an inexpensive way of getting into pure bred lines. These regulations have been in force for some time, but as we had no provincial inspector, the breeders were unable to take advantage of them unless some eastern inspector visited the coast. Mr. Hadwen will be pleased to give every assistance to the breeders. Any communications on this subject addressed to R. W. Hodson, live stock commissioner, department of agriculture, Victoria, will be forwarded to Mr. G. H. Hadwen. Mr. Hadwen will be pleased to answer all correspondence relative to the registration of hackneys.

SATISFACTORY WORK BEING ACCOMPLISHED

Local Members of W. C. T. U. Hear Splendid Reports of Convention Work

The beautiful home of Mrs. J. Teague, Chestnut avenue, was open to the members of the W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon, who met to receive a report of the provincial convention held in Vancouver last week. The large attendance, the pleasant reports, and the general hospitality of the hostess combined to make the gathering most delightful as well as profitable. Miss Stevenson, daughter of Rev. Mr. Stevenson of the Emmanuel Baptist church, contributed to the pleasure of the afternoon by rendering a solo in a pleasing manner. Mrs. Teague was assisted in serving tea by Miss Shannon, Miss Spencer and Miss Hackett. Ten new members were received. Mrs. Willis, of the new Victoria branch, presided over the meeting, the devotional portion of which was led by Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Tite.

Mrs. Andrews gave an interesting resume of the annual gathering of the Temperance Women which now has grown to be by far the largest and most representative gathering of women in the province. More than 100 delegates represented the organization from Cranbrook to the coast. From east and west, from north and south the women gathered and enjoyed three full days of down right hard convention work. With an executive meeting preceding on the Monday evening and a past executive following on Friday morning.

The reports of officers showed marked improvement in the standing of the society, 350 new members having been added, four unions organized and $450 contributed to provincial work. This exclusive of what the local unions expended in their local work. Each of the 22 departments showed work far in advance of any previous year. In literature, 166,562 pages, 58,000 copies of "The Pioneer," 16,344 copies of the "White Ribbon Bulletin," the Dominion official organ, besides large quantities of foreign literature was distributed. Through the medium of the flower mission some 15,000 bouquets with scripture texts attached, and hundreds of delicacies have found their way to the sick in hospitals and in homes. A much larger number of unions are taking up work amongst the children through the organization of local temperance leagues. The temperance army and Sunday school unions report 112 churches using non-alcoholic wine for sacramental purposes. Victoria, New Westminster, Vernon and Kelowna report liquor in agricultural fair grounds and consequently improved conditions. Sixty-nine parlor meetings were largely instrumental in increasing the membership and affording social intercourse for members.

In an interesting address from Dr. Spencer on local option, he congratulated the W. C. T. U. on being the "mother" of the movement in the province, and reported sixty leagues composed of leading business men now organized to advance local option.

Mrs. A. L. Robinson (nee Miss A. L. A. Murcutt) was the convention speaker, and addressed two mass meetings on the subjects: "The Lordship of The Upper Air" and "Patriotism." Her large audiences are proof that the speaker, now so well and so favorably known throughout British Columbia, had never been heard to better advantage.

Mrs. Spofford, provincial president, was requested to outline the policy of the organization for the coming year, and stated that the decision of the convention was to prosecute with greater vigor the training of the youth, and that an appeal will be made to the heads of the various denominations to have the churches undertake more definite training of the children through denominational organizations. Special attention will be given also to the franchise department, a definite campaign of activity having been agreed upon. Further organization will be effected, and the local workers will be engaged. Moral education will have special attention, and efforts will be commenced towards enlarging the W. C. T. U. home, the growing needs requiring this. The unions have undertaken to raise $2 per member for this object, "above all other requirements." The meeting received with great pleasure the announcement that the convention had honored the provincial president with life membership. Before dispersing a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Teague for her delightful hospitality.

A FEW CUTTING REMARKS

The purpose of a saw is to cut. It should cut easily, cut cleanly, and cut with every movement. I prefer an Atkins Saw. Its blade is "Silver Steel," recognized the world over as the finest, crutible steel ever made in ancient or modern times. It is hard, close-grained and tough. It holds a sharp cutting edge longer than any other Saw. Its blade tapers perfectly from thick to thin, from handle to tip. This makes it easy to run easily and does not buckle. Its temper is perfect. When bent by a crooked thrust, it springs into shape without kinking. The Atkins Saw cuts—and does it best of any. We make all types and sizes of saws, but only one grade—the best.

SUSPECTED OF
SOUTHERN CRIME

Ladysmith Bartender Is Held
Here for Murder Committed
Over Four Years Ago

Positively identified as James Jones, the man who more than four years ago deliberately shot and killed a white man, Jack Johns, in a bar room at the little mining camp of Buxton, Munroe County, Iowa, and after making his escape from the scene of the crime by attiring himself in a woman's clothing, eventually found his way across the boundary line and landed at Ladysmith, Charley James, a good looking mulatto, now lies at the provincial jail awaiting the arrival of officers from Iowa to take him back to stand his trial for the slaying of Johns.

James was brought into the city from Ladysmith yesterday at noon by Provincial Constable Cassidy and Town Constable Callender, by whom he was arrested on Thursday. That he is now in custody and must face the most serious charge was directly due to Martin Brown, a negro miner at Ladysmith, who, at the time the crime was committed four years ago, was deputy sheriff for Munroe County, Iowa, with headquarters at the town of Albia, and who, in fact, took an active part in the hunt for Jones, chasing the latter as far as Kansas City where the trail was lost.

Identified by Ex-Sheriff
After completing his term as deputy sheriff Brown worked his way to the Pacific coast and finally arrived at Ladysmith, where he is now employed as a miner. James, after his arrival at Ladysmith some months ago, worked as bartender and an acquaintance was formed with Brown and other negroes at Ladysmith, the suspect showing a partiality for the dark-skinned race. Brown was well acquainted with the family of the Buxton murderer and while the man who killed Johns was then but 18 years of age and by this time would doubtless have changed in appearance considerably the ex-deputy sheriff was certain that the Ladysmith bartender and the youth who slew Johns were one and the same person. Brown communicated his suspicions to the Ladysmith police, who communicated with the Albia authorities. The result was the arrest of James on the request of the American authorities. The description of the murderer given by the latter tallies closely with that of the man under arrest even after allowance for change during the past few years has been made.

Cold-Blooded Crime
The crime for which James, or Jones, will be charged was committed on the night of December 1, 1904, in Pat Lewis' road house, a mile or two outside Buxton, Iowa. Johns and another man were drinking at the bar behind which Jones was working. The two customers were quarrelsome and Jones had been warned by Johns to leave the premises. A fight started between Johns and his companion and the former struck the latter over the head with a bottle. Jones grabbing a revolver, ran around from behind the bar and shot Johns in the back. Fatally wounded Johns staggered outside to the street followed by Jones who fired four more shots into his victim, instantly killing him.

"I guess they'll want me for this," was all Jones remarked as he returned to the bar, secured his coat and disappeared. It was subsequently learned that the murderer made his way to a friend's house some miles away and stayed over night. The next night he attempted to catch the train at a small place called Albia, but the police were guarding all means of travel and Jones had to walk across country. On this trip his ears were frozen and the fact that the man now under arrest here has small pieces of the lobes of his ears missing, as often happens when a person's ears are severely frost-bitten, is one of the many marks by which Brown identified his man.

In Woman's Attire
A posse, of which Brown was a member, searched the country for days on the hunt for Jones, but no trace of him could be found, though it was discovered that he had made his way across country attired in woman's clothing and that he reached Kansas City. Beyond that point the search proved fruitless. A reward of $200 for information leading to the arrest of Jones was offered by Sheriff Griffin, of Albia County, and the description of the fugitive spread broadcast.

When the man now under arrest arrived at Ladysmith one of the first persons with whom he became acquainted was Brown, the ex-sheriff and keenest pursuer of Jones. It was natural that the two should talk of their homes in the States and it was during the course of these conversations that Brown became convinced that James and Jones were one and the same person.

When James arrived in the city yesterday morning he was interrogated by the authorities. He stated that he was born at Middlesboro, Kentucky, leaving that state two years ago. He was a coal miner by trade, though he could not mention the names of the towns or the mines in which he had worked. He vehemently denied knowing anything about the murder of Johns and declared that he had never been in Albia or Buxton or in fact in that part of the state of Iowa.

Stayed in Victoria

He stated that he has been in the province for about the past eight months, arriving in Victoria from Seattle on October 26 last year. He stayed in this city for two or three days and then went to Ladysmith. He denied that he had negro blood in his veins, stating that both his parents were whites.

James appeared to take his arrest quietly. He came down on the train readily enough and when told that he would be held until the American authorities could be communicated with displayed no alarm at the prospect of going back across the boundary. During his stay in Ladysmith he has been well behaved, always quiet and reserved in manner and made but few friends. A Colt's revolver was discovered a Colt's revolver, with which, when he was showing it to Brown on one occasion, he had declared that if ever he should be in a position where he was wanted by the police for any crime he would shoot himself rather than surrender. When handling the revolver he held it in a certain position with both hands and this action immediately struck Brown as peculiar for the murderer of Johns when he fired the fatal shots, held the revolver in exactly the same manner.

Superintendent Cassidy, yesterday wired Sheriff Griffin, at Albia, notifying him of the arrest of James and forwarding an accurate description of the prisoner, who will be held pending the receipt of advices from Albia as to what the authorities there purpose doing.

City Council Accepts Draft
Agreement With B. C.
Electric Company

If the agreement approved of by the city council proves equally as satisfactory to the B. C. Electric company, nothing remains in the way of the company proceeding with the proposed Jordan river power development scheme, and a consequent enormous improvement in and growth in the company's service here, that the assent of the ratepayers of the city to the bylaw which must be submitted and passed before the agreement becomes binding.

After fifteen months' negotiations it now looks as if the city and company have arrived on common ground and more every prospect that the next three years the company will be spending millions in developing the Jordan river source of supply to make this city one of the most favored cities in the Dominion in the way of an adequate supply of cheap power with all its consequent commercial and industrial benefits.

A draft of the agreement which a special committee of the council, composed of Mayor Hall and Aldermen Turner and Henderson, arrived at with the company, came up for consideration by the city council at a special meeting last night. After the expiration of some amendments suggested by City Barrister W. J. Taylor which did not appear to change the real sense of the agreement, the draft was approved. As A. T. Goward, local manager of the company, was in no position to pass upon the amendments before the council, as adopted by the council, will have to be submitted to the company's solicitors and directors and if approved, as it is expected it will be, the ratepayers will be called upon to vote on the matter. In order to expedite matters the necessary bylaw will be prepared and the agreement signifies its acceptance of the agreement the same will be incorporated in the bylaw and the measure put to the ratepayers.

Agreement in Brief
Briefly the city agrees to go to the next legislature and secure the necessary amendments to the Municipal act permitting the arrangement with the company and safeguarding the company's interests and in return the company agrees that within three years from the date of the final passing of the bylaw to erect a power plant at or near Victoria to cost $1,500,000, the plant to have a capacity of not less than 10,000 horsepower, this power to be used in and around Victoria. The rates to be charged by the company after this plant is in operation shall not exceed those now being charged in the city of Vancouver for power and lighting and the rates in the district surrounding this city shall not exceed those now in force in the district surrounding Vancouver. The company, it is required, to go to the city by supply power for city lighting to the amount of that now being used by the city, or in excess of that amount, at one half the price which it now costs the city to generate its lighting power. But the city must use this power for its own purposes and not sell the same.

Within three years from the date of the final passing of the bylaw the company will expend on extensions of its system in and around Victoria not less than $250,000 exclusive of the expenditure on its power plant. If at any time the city is in position to develop power from Sooke lake or its tributaries the company consents to take water at a rate to be decided upon provided this water be supplied continuously and uninterruptedly at the rate of 1,000 horsepower per diem.

Protect Company
The amendment to the Municipal act which the city agrees to apply to the legislature for will provide that the city shall not pass any bylaw to raise money to construct or operate any works in opposition to the company until an offer to buy out the company is first made by the city, the price to be fixed by arbitration.

The agreement was put through with but little comment, the main points having been threshed out at previous occasions. After being amended as suggested by the city barrister it was unanimously adopted and it is now up to the company to also approve. As soon as the necessary bylaw incorporating the agreement is ready it will be submitted to the ratepayers. As in the case of money bylaw this measure will require that three-fifths of those who vote thereon must be in favor of the measure. Any bylaw granting any privilege or conferring any powers belonging to the city require more than a bare majority vote. The agreement if accepted by the ratepayers will remain in force until May 1, 1913, the date on which the company's franchise expires.

MOVEMENTS IN REALTY MARKET

Big Interest in Craigdarroch
Subdivision—Number of Sales Reported

During the past week increased interest has been noticeable in the local realty market, a large amount of property having changed hands. A feature of the movement is that in nearly every case the property purchased is for building purposes, and at present a number of houses are going up in different parts of the city.

No fewer than 20 lots in the Craigdarroch subdivision have been put through the market by private sale, and upon most of these unusually fine locations, handsome residences will be constructed. There is considerable inquiry in connection with the Craigdarroch property, and its ideal situation, and the attractive character of the land, will probably lead to all the lots being disposed of within a very short time.

Grant and Lineham report the following sales: Twenty-one lots on North Quadra street; two lots on Linden avenue in the Fairfield estate; two lots on Coburg street, James Bay. The four lots on Oscar street reported sold last week were put through the market by Grant & Lineham.

McPherson & Fullerton were responsible during the last few days for putting through the sale of nine lots in the Hollywood park subdivision. Of these seven were on the waterfront, averaging in price $1,500 each. The other two sold for $450 a piece. More than half this property has now passed through the market.

In Victoria West the same realty firm has disposed of three houses, at $2,800, $3,500 and $3,800 respectively. The Island Investment Company is placing a new subdivision on the market today. It lies north of Bay street, and is bounded by Quadra and Cliff streets and Kings road. It contains 25 lots which are being put on the market at prices ranging from $400 to $650. The old Blackwood estate is in the centre of the subdivision.

A number of the agents report a vigorous inquiry for outside acreage, and a number of small farms in the outskirts of the city have changed hands during the past few weeks.

Here and There

The Toronto papers containing accounts of the meetings of the International Council of Women are coming to hand. The opening session was held in the beautiful convocation hall of Toronto University. The decorations of the hall were very splendid and elaborate. The president of the National Council of Canada, Lady Edgar, read an address of welcome to Lady Aberdeen and the delegates. The Premier of the province, Sir James Whitney, spoke of the importance of the work of the council, and extended a very warm welcome to its president, Lady Aberdeen. He assured her that if the united voice of the people of Canada could be heard, it would be a grand chorus of national welcome. As it is whispered, Sir James Whitney does not deal in empty compliments even where women are concerned, the expression, coming from his lips, would have added weight.

Lady Aberdeen seems to have been as delighted to be back in Canada as her old friends are to see her. She said:

"I must confess that I feel very much like the old mother visiting a dearly-loved daughter in her own home, after long years of separation, and seeing that daughter surrounded by her children in the bloom and vigor of youth, and doing the honors of her beautiful home to distinguished visitors from many lands. Well, the old mother and grandmother is filled with pride and delight, and her heart tonight is full of loving memories of the past, of joy in the present reunion, and in anticipation of future accomplishments."

In the course of her speech she alluded touchingly to the death of the founderess of the council, Miss Frances Willard. Mrs. Cody Stanton, and Miss Susan B. Anthony, and welcomed two others, Mrs. May Wright Sewall and Mrs. Foster Avery. A review of the work of the council showed the advance that had been made throughout the world, speaking especially of the work of the venerable vice-president of the council, Madame Anna de Filosofoff, of Russia. This lady is the pioneer of women's university education in her own country, and has made great efforts to obtain the consent of the authorities to the formation of a woman's council there.

In speaking of the work of the council, of its charity and breadth of view, Lady Aberdeen said that the international council must needs be the strongest peace society that could exist, for there could be no war where the hearts of different nations were brought into such close contact with one another. There can be no doubt not only this, but all the great international councils that are being held in these days are gradually but surely breaking down the prejudices and jealousies that keep the peoples of the world apart, and have been such fruitful causes of war in the past.

Moreover, they believed themselves to be the most powerful witnesses in favor of extending the suffrage to women that existed. They imposed the penalty of this movement on no country adverse to it, although as an international council, they advocated its strenuous support, and the work of the organizations of women belonging to the councils in all lands proved the justice of the demand.

The Council, however, the speaker said, observed in all their work the golden rule, and believed it was the spirit of the work rather than the work itself that was of the greatest importance. Frau Stritt, the German vice-president of the council, spoke of the sympathy which German women had in the work. There were twenty delegates present from that country, and there were many others who would watch their proceedings with the greatest interest. Speakers from many countries addressed the meeting, and seem to have spoken in English. The prettiest speech was that made by Miss Baelde, president of the council of the Netherlands, who said that when she went home and was asked what she had done, she would say: "Canada was like, she would say: 'Canada is a beautiful country, and the hearts of its women are like reception halls for joy and life, where every guest is welcome, and every stranger made to feel at home.'"

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to a suffering woman.

The Boston Transcript says that it was in June, 1909 that the first temperance society was formed. This paper claims that a village in New York was the birthplace of the temperance organizations, which in the last half of the 19th century were to be found in almost every city and town and settlement in North America. The Toronto Mail and Empire disputes this claim, and says that as far back as 1793 an association against spirituous liquors was formed in Nova Scotia. Neither of these societies imposed total abstinence on its members. The Nova Scotian society was concerned for the effect of the excessive use of liquors "among the laboring poor, to the ruin of their morals and their health," and bound its members "to refrain from giving any sort of spirituous liquors to any servant or laborer in our employ."

The earliest temperance societies in the United States also allowed their members to use a moderate amount of alcoholic beverages. It was not long, however, before the gospel of total abstinence was preached among them, with such effect that "temperance" became synonymous with "total abstinence." The world is greatly indebted to the work of these early societies. They were bands of earnest men who worked for the good of their fellows and the uplifting of society. Their methods have gone out of fashion, but it will be well for the world if those who work in the same cause now can look back at the end of half a century on as much good done as in a former generation was accomplished by "moral suasion."

The bad boy has disappeared from the world, if we are to believe the testimony of many who have undertaken the work among children. Mr. Kalso will not allow that any are to be found in Ontario and Judge Lindsay finds very few, if any, in Denver.

It is a wonderful thing the faith of these good people enables them to do for the children among whom they labor. Most of us would do well, when dealing with boys, to resolutely close our eyes to many of their failings and be so diligent for the good qualities they possess. It is only by doing these things that they can be helped to grow to be good and useful men. Sympathy with boys is a quality not too common among men and it is found sometimes in very unexpected places. One of the number of these boys, his name is John Gunckel and he was 17 years ago a ticket agent on the Lake Shore railroad. The story of his work is told by the "Congregationalist" and "Catholic Worker."

The way the railroad man came to get interested in the boys shows that he already had learned to notice what he was going on around him. Mr. Flurbush the writer of the article, says: "One day I was walking in a field near the city, and noticed a boy scattering something on the ground. The day was Friday. He asked the boy what he was doing. He said that the school children would be coming there the next day after hickory nuts, and as the trees were dead, he had 'blown himself' to 15 cents worth of nuts, so they would not be disappointed. Mr. Gunckel could see that he was a poor boy. It seemed to him a fine thing that this boy was doing and he was so pleased that he made an appointment to meet him there the next morning and watch the children find the nuts. At that meeting 'Jim' agreed to be Mr. Gunckel's friend, and the next Monday he consented to bring some of his chums to Mr. Gunckel's office to become his friends also.

"Before Monday, Mr. Gunckel did some hard thinking. Few persons had studied books about boys then, and I don't believe he has read any about them since. This is not a book of knowledge. It is first hand knowledge. The 'Toledo Newsday' Association was formed, by five boys solemnly signing their names to the famous agreement which over 5,000 have signed since. It begins, 'I do not approve of swearing, stealing, lying, smoking,' etc.

"Not long after this the little organization was started, one of the early members broke the agreement. Mr. Gunckel was grieved, and hardly knew what to do. But his friend Jimmie solved the difficulty promptly. He took the offender out in an alley and punched his head! This worked an instant reclamation. This act gave Mr. Gunckel his first idea as to the way to run his association—for he started without any theories. 'This idea was, self-government. It soon grew to another one, which Mr. Gunckel states in this wise, 'To make a bad boy good, send him out to take care of another bad boy.'"

"Mr. Gunckel showed me how his system works. When a boy has signed an application to become a member of the association, Mr. Gunckel hands his card to one of his officers, of whom there are 60 in various parts of the city. This boy is to report on any habits which the applicant needs to correct in order to become a worthy member. "One card I saw read, 'He smokes'; another, 'He uses cuss words to his mother.' When improvement comes, Mr. Gunckel writes across the card such a phrase as, 'Cut it out, March 16, 1909.' If a member falls from grace he receives a card reminder, signed, not by Mr. Gunckel, but by a boy officer, and containing a curt warning and a picture of a boy being spanked by his mother."

When Mr. Gunckel's boys began to interfere with his business the Lake Shore road told him to go ahead and use the company's time. During the last two years 50 citizens of Toledo have paid him a salary, and recently they have provided him with a building that cost $100,000. We read further: "Everybody knows him. The adults call him 'John' and the boys call him 'Gunck.' Postmen and policemen who are too much away from home to discipline their children, and then, when boys do wrong, their mothers make them behave by threatening to tell Mr. Gunckel. He is a benevolent boyman in Toledo. "All this work is intensely personal. 'Gunck' is the center and soul of it. To please him is goodness, to displease him is disloyalty. It seems somewhat 'D.D.' But boys are in the heart of the matter. The Sunday after-noon, a brass band and a business training, the people who are in the habit of paying 60 per cent when Dr. Jew, and most of the rest would never see the inside of a Sunday school, anyhow. Some of Mr. Gunckel's graduates are now teaching Sunday schools. He has certainly established among many boys in Toledo and elsewhere a practical code of decent living, upon which Sunday schools can build up."

A Sewing Cabinet
The next time you are in doubt what to select for a prize or small gift, why not hit upon a sewing cabinet of some sort? Any woman who sews would welcome one, and though she may be already supplied another could go in the guest room.

A good-looking cabinet of this sort could easily be made of cane. From the lid of a wooden box about a quarter of an inch thick cut a circle five inches in diameter. To the middle of it fasten a slender support, either a piece of round handle or a square or rectangular strip of wood four inches high.

On top of the support nail or glue a two and a half inch circle of thinner wood—the top of a cigar box will answer. This framework can be finished in any way desired. Stained either oak or mahogany, covered with a coat of enamel, it will be serviceable for a sewing room. The dainty effect can be had by painting it either white, pale blue or pink and topping with a coat of enamel. When used for a guest room, a color to match the decorations is attractive.

Glued to the small top circle on the stand is a ten-toothed pin cushion four inches in diameter. Cut two circles of stout muslin, four and a half inches in diameter, sew the edges on machine and stuff with a wool filling. Make a cover for the cushion in the same way. It can be of red velvet for a sewing room cabinet, or of dainty flowered or colored silk or velvet for the others.

When the cover is on catch the cushion through the centre with a carpet needle and patent thread. Run a twist of heavy embroidery silk or gilt cord around the sides of the cushion for a cover seam. Beginning in the middle draw the silk or cord around the cushion to form radii. It should be divided into eight sections.

After the cushion is fastened to its stand it has attached to it by bobby ribbon or cord a small mirror, a needle book, a piece of wax and a thimble case. A small bow should hide the joining of these articles to the seam of the cushion.

Around the support, just below the cushion, is tied a longer ribbon with a small pair of scissors fastened to the other end. Around the baseboard are fastened five small brass nails with heads small enough to slip through spools of cotton, sewing silk and darning cotton.

If one does not wish to go to the trouble of making such a cabinet one can be bought in mission form, of mahogany finish with a drawer base, a pin cushion top and a rack beneath to hold from a dozen to eighteen spools of thread.

He Preferred the Cash.

A commercial traveller having got settlement of a long-stated account with a shoekeeper, invited him out to dine. "Na, na," said the tradesman "I'll never get on an inn; but just tell me how much it would cost you to give me my dinner." "Oh," said the traveller, "perhaps three shillings or four shillings." "Very well, then," replied the economist, "give me the four shillings, and I'll be just as well pleased as if I'd got the dinner."

AND ONCE MORE M'FARLANE QUILTS

Hard-to-please Pug Again
Falls Out With His Manager Gilmore

San Francisco, June 24.—Packey McFarlane is to quit his trusty and wise little manager, Harry Gilmore, Jr., once more. This is the news that reached here from Davenport, Ia., this morning, where Packey is visiting a few friends. The report comes like a thunderbolt out of the clear sky, for until this word was received here it was believed the pair were inseparable. The report says Packey is sorry to leave his old manager, but feels that he can do his own business, in that he is going to fight but a few more battles.

The stock yards fighter had similar thoughts some time ago when he dropped Gilmore, and he soon discovered that, though a good fighter, he was a bad manager. He lost several matches, one in particular, a go with Nelson, and a possible fight with Gans, either of which would have most likely made him champion. Gilmore has done remarkably well in handling Packey, and the latter owes much to Harry for his financial and pugilistic standing.

When seen last night Gilmore declared that the news was all a big surprise to him.

"It's all news to me that I'm no longer manager of Packey," said Gilmore. "We have been together many years, and while, there, naturally have been differences of opinion, regarding matches, these have not been serious enough to warrant a break in relations. Only yesterday I was dickering for a match between McFarlane and 'Cyclone Johnny' Thompson at Indianapolis or New Orleans, and it was practically made. I have practically closed this match, and one with Phil Brock and another with Bert Keyes. I cannot understand Packey's attitude, knowing this.

"Packey became a bit nettled a short time ago because of his failure to get in the ring with Battling Nelson, but it was no fault of mine that the match with the Dane did not materialize. I've done my best by McFarlane, and my match making does not appear to have been to his disadvantage. However, I'll wait until I hear from Packey myself before I make any plans for the future."

CHURCH IN WEST

Need of Systematic Work Considered at Informal Conference in London

London, June 24.—At an informal conference held at the offices of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel to consider a movement for advising and helping those churchmen who emigrate to Canada, Bishop Pinkham of Calgary stated that notwithstanding enormous increase of clergy in his diocese the church was unable to reach one-fourth of the people.

No formal resolutions were passed but the trend of discussion pointed out the necessity of the Canadian church appointing a central secretary, whose business would be to advise churchmen where to settle and where they would be in touch with the ministrations of the church. Representations to this effect will be made to the primate of all Canada.

There was a general feeling that Archbishop Lloyd, who had really inspired the conference should be at the head of the scheme.

SAM IS ANGRY

Annoyed at His Failure to Get on Match With the Smoke

London, June 24.—Angered by the reports that he is all in and disappointed in his failure to get Jack Johnson to come here, Sam Longford and his manager, Joe Woodman, sailed for America today. The colored fighter declared that as soon as he landed back in the country of the Stars and Stripes he would post $5,000 in support of a challenge and side bet for a fight with Willie Lewis. He will then go after Ketchel, Johnson, and the rest of the big men. Langford bars none of the glove welders save Jeffries.

TERRIBLE TURK WILL MEET SEATTLE CRACK

Big Wrestlers Will Go to the Mat Tonight at Seattle

Seattle, June 24.—Big Yousiff, the Turk, will make the effort of his life tonight to win in straight falls from Dr. B. F. Roller, and expects to win. The men are slated to go catch-as-catch-can style at the Arena, and the winner will be matched to wrestle John Berg, Charles Olson, Kid Cutler, or Amerleus for the special event day on the night of July 5.

The men wrestled to an unsatisfactory decision last Friday night, and the vast crowd immediately took up the cry for the foreign grappler and insisted on the management giving him a return match. Jack Curley, who after that part of the Arena, lost no time casting his lines for such a meeting and the bout was arranged.

Kid Herman, known in private life by his right name, Herman Landfield, will be the third man on the mat for the second Roller-Yousiff match. Herman is now in business in Seattle, and has retired from the ring game. As a fighter he met them all, including Dave Sullivan, Aurella Herrera, Eddie Hanlon, Packy McFarlane, Benny Yanger, Abe Attell, and other cracks, and his record shows few losing battles. He sat at the ringside last Friday night, and after the decision of the referee quietly left his box seat, saying that the referee, being right on top of the

YALE TASTES DEFEAT AT HARVARD HANDS

Cambridge, Mass., June 24.—Harvard won the annual class day game with Yale on soldiers field today principally through the breaking up of the victors pitching department, the score standing 3 to 2 after eleven innings of exciting baseball had been played.

For six innings the Yale nine not only fielded like veterans, but rolled up two runs while Harvard failed to get a man by second base. In the seventh Merritt, for Yale, forced in a run by giving two bases on balls and hitting two more. Hartford, the Harvard pitcher, also weakened in this inning. Then came a comedy of Yale errors in the ninth and the score was tied. Both had a chance to win, but Harvard finally pulled out winner by good hitting.

Score—Harvard, 3, 6, 3, Yale, 2, 6, 4.

Semi-ready Tailoring

Semi-ready Tailoring

¶ Ancient habits and customs are hard to stop and still hard to change.

¶ The genesis of fashion began with Joseph's coat of many colours. Adam's fig-leaf was ready-made and was not really fashionable. "Ye tailor of ye olden time" made clothes somewhat as the custom tailor makes them to-day. "Semi-ready" made the first great change.

¶ Men's ready-made clothing has been the synonym for shabby cloth and shabby making. "Semi-ready" is not ready-made.

¶ To-day most men know that they can buy in the Semi-ready shop a better tailored garment, of finer design and better quality, than most tailors can possibly make.

FITZHERBERT WINS CLASSIC

Hildreth's Three-year-old Captures Suburban Handicap at Sheephead Bay

SCANT CROWD SEES WHIRLWIND FINISH

Field of Starters One of Smallest in the History of the Event

New York, June 24.—Fitzherbert, the sturdy three-year-old son of Ethel Ber-Morgant, easily won the Suburban handicap today from a field of six starters, one of the smallest that has ever contested for the honors of the classic event of the American turf. Bearing the colors of Sam Hildreth, the sleek brown horse with Eddy Dugan up, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:03 2-5, which is only two-fifths of a second slower than the record for the event hung up last year by that sterling handicap horse Ballot. The four-year-old Alfred Noble was second, six lengths behind, and Fayette, a smart three-year-old, was third.

This is the second time in Suburban history that a three-year-old has carried off the honors, and Hildreth was showered with congratulations upon his victory.

Fitzherbert and the four-year-old Restigouche were coupled in the betting, and favorites at 4 to 5. Hildreth declared to win with Restigouche, but the son of Commando could not stand the strain, and stopped at the mile. Fitzherbert then came on alone, and won.

CROWD WAS SMALL

A scant ten thousand persons journeyed to the charming Sheephead Bay track today to witness the twenty-sixth running of the Suburban, the sixth in the best of shape for fast time. The fairly filled grandstands and the empty field stands, which were not thrown open to the public, made the day in some respects seem but a poor one for the suburban days of Salvo and Hero of Navarre.

Before the call for boots and saddles, Arctic and Effendi were scratched, leaving only six horses. The play in the betting ring on the Hildreth stable was heavy, and the public had no difficulty in getting wagers down. The small field made the work of getting the horses off an easy task. Fitzherbert went out in front closely followed by Alfred Noble, Fashion, Plate, Restigouche, King's Daughter and Fayette in the order named. It was a pretty start, and one which enabled each jockey to carry out his plan of riding. Jockey McCarthy urged Alfred Noble quickly in the lead, and Burns went out in front closely followed by Alfred Noble. This way they ran to the quarter with Fitzherbert in third place, and Jockey Dugan holding him in restraint.

A PERFECT RACE

It's Restigouche, cried the crowd as Hildreth's horse took a slight lead at the half mile. Alfred Noble then was three lengths in front of Fitzherbert, but Dugan still held the three-year-old in reserve and watched the two leaders struggle ahead. King's Daughter and Fashion Plate hung gamely on in the luck for a time, but the pace was too fast, and then they gradually fell further and further behind.

Into the mile they came, Restigouche still in the lead, but faltering. His jockey went to the whip, but the son of Commando had not an ounce of strength to help him maintain the struggle. Dugan then sent out his stable mate Fitzherbert to win. Into the stretch, with perfect stride, swept Fitzherbert, and with such a burst of speed that it carried the other contenders virtually off their feet. Unchallenged now by his flag, Fitzherbert steadily increased his lead. Behind Alfred Noble fought on gamely. Fayette rushed on ahead of the tiring Restigouche and King's Daughter in the stretch, and took third place. Fitzherbert ran to the finish six lengths ahead of Alfred Noble, while the latter went out in front closely followed by Alfred Noble. This way they ran to the quarter with Fitzherbert in third place, and Jockey Dugan holding him in restraint.

WITH THE CRICKETERS

Tomorrow the Balmoral 11 will play against the Strawberry Vale team at Strawberry Vale. Players are requested to take the 6:30 train at 1:20. The Balmorals will have the following players: Rev. H. A. Collison, Byrnie, Spalding, Janlon, Woodruff, Barrett, Duce, Forbes, Hearn, and Anderson.

The Royal Oak grounds will be the scene of the game between Albion cricket club and the Saanich 11. Members playing against Saanich can obtain information regarding transportation to the Royal Oaks from Mr. C. W. Scott or the honorary secretary. The Albions will play following: Scott, Brown, Callam, Grimson, McCall, Tinker, Parry, Safford, Marsh, Yolland and Nalson. Reserves—Duncan and Spain.

At the Beacon Hill grounds the Albions will hold a club match for the night, and the game between the Albions and the Saanich 11.

On account of the battle match tomorrow being held at the Victoria grounds, the game between the Albions and the Saanich 11 will be postponed.

★ RACING GOSSIP ★

I never heard of Bellingham before and don't know the population of that city, unless it is bigger than I think it is, the entire enrollment of its able-bodied citizens must have been present at the Willows yesterday.

Another of my best bets in the jockey line has made good. Jockey Vosper demonstrated to the public that all we said about him is true by piloting home several long shots during the past few days. Those who have had faith in him since his appearance here have certainly been well rewarded.

For Sale—A nice saddle horse. One that your mother-in-law can ride. Guaranteed to do everything but run. Is registered under the name of Swift MacNeill. Good disposition, at same time a rattle-snake. Address all communications to Jack Malley.

Jack Blackwell has all the English billiard players at the Driard backed out on the limb. Last night he defeated Phil Reilly by the close score of 100 to 1.

Those sharpshooters who beat the prices overnight can't manage to pick a winner in spite of getting the best of the quotations.

There was a grand schamble in the first race yesterday when the babies all tried to see which one could get to the outside fence first. It does not seem that these youngsters will get educated to a half-mile track.

Matt Reiss was his whirl at picking them yesterday. After the third race he predicted that "Crickie" Kelly would ride four winners but only one of them came true.

I don't like Harry McCarty, and Redington and will not be an accomplice with them in keeping the identity of "Crickie" a secret. Logan Denny is the mysterious handicapper who holds the world's record for not having a winner in thirty-one races. His wonderful performance will be sent to the Police Gazette and Harry Andrews for compilation immediately, as he is expected to get out of the maiden class today.

In handicapping the entries for the Empress classic of Saturday, Jim Neil suggests that Blue Heron be weighted with a red surcingle.

Here is one that got crowded out of the question department: "To decide a bet will you please inform me through your columns whether there ever has been a better price offered at the Willows during the present meet than that of 100 to 1 offered some time ago against Avalon? Will you please explain?"

Everything about the place, the quaint, low house, portions of which was sent out from England by the Baroness Burdett Coutts, the fine old trees, the thick shrubbery and the old fashioned flowers in the borders, in an old world air very foreign to the stir and bustle of a modern city.

Every arrangement had been made for the comfort of the many guests and seats were everywhere to be found for those who did not prefer to stroll about the lawn. The music of the Fifth Regiment added to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

Among the guests were many old and honored residents of Victoria, some of whom had welcomed Bishop Hill on his arrival fifty years ago. AMUSEMENTS

Personnel of the Pollards

The Pollard's Adult Opera company, to play here next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, in the London and New York success, "Widow O'Brien," is composed of a bunch of the best that have graduated from the Pollard's school of training, and that means they have been bred in the Pollard's since they were little, little children.

Many of the members of the new company will be remembered by theatre-goers here. Teddie McNamara has graduated from the Lilliputians and is now a real, life-sized comedian, with all his youthful experience to help him.

The leading female parts are undertaken by Eva Moore, well known for her own success as leading girl with the Lilliputians for many years previous to 1904, when she graduated to the senior company, but also carrying much prestige as the sister of the famous Carry Moore, the English actress who created the Dainty Maid, the Cingalese and the Sandow Girl.

Willie Pollard and Alfred Goulding alternate in the male leads. Alfred Goulding was the original comedian of the Lilliputians. Willie Pollard was the Lilliputian comedian when they first visited America, and will have many friends here to remember him.

Jack Pollard, who has been playing the title roles in the Williamson's Pantomimes in Australia ever since he graduated, is another member of this company. Fred, Blindloss Pollard, whose sweet singing made a great hit with the audiences at the theatre four years ago, will be one member of the company whose voice will certainly please.

Pantages Theatre

The Scotch Macks, Glasgow's favorite merry makers in Scottish songs, dances, and Harry Lauder, imitations, in conjunction to an otherwise splendid programme, which includes farce comedy, spectacular contortion, vocal and instrumental music, illustrated ballad, and the funniest moving picture ever shown are proving an extraordinary attraction at Pantages this week.

New Grand Theatre

Robert Jamieson, manager of the Grand theatre has certainly hit the popular taste with the big bill he is offering at the popular Government street theatre this week. All the acts given are in the top range of vaudeville skill, and the public has not been slow to take advantage of the splendid show. Mabel Carew and her accompanist, J. Van Epps, Esq., whom she says she brought from Philadelphia make a big hit in their singing and piano turn, when they sing five good songs, and she is heard in the Derby race recitation. Van Epps' two songs are both of good character, and succeed in the line meant.

Carita Day and the dancing boys can safely be put down as the three best dancers seen here in vaudeville, and the racing playlet of Jack Wyatt and C. Blanche Rice is attractive outside of the fact that it is a bit on account of the racing now here. Sados is a juggler par excellence, and the blackface turn of Everett Knotts is worth seeing. The illustrated song and motion pictures are the best of their kind. The last performances will be tonight and tomorrow.

The Guest.

Let the guest sojourning here know that in this home our life is simple. What we cannot afford we do not offer, but what good cheer we can give, we give gladly. We make no strife for appearance sake.

Know also, friend, that we live a life of labor—that we may not neglect it. Therefore, if, at times, we separate ourselves from you, do you occupy yourself according to your heart's desire, being sure that no slight to your presence is intended.

For, while you are with us, we would have you enjoy the blessings of a home, health, love and freedom, and we pray that you may find the final blessing of life—peace.

We will not defer to you in opinion or ask you to defer to us. What you think you shall say, if you wish, without giving offence. What we think we also say, believing that the crystal, Truth, has many aspects, and that Love is large enough to encompass them all.

In this house you may meet those not of your own sort. They may differ from you in nationality, birth, position, possessions, education or affinity. But we are maintaining here a small part of the world's future democracy. We ask of you, therefore, courtesy and tolerance for all alike.

And, on these stern terms, though you be young or old, proud or plain, rich or poor, resting here you are a partaker of our love and we give you glad welcome. —Marguerite Ogden Bigelow, in the "Craftsman."

KILLED IN NORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shepherd, of Nanaimo, Mourn Death of Their Young Son

Nanaimo, June 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shepherd, of this city, have just passed through a most distressing experience in connection with the death of their young son, Joe, who was killed about ten days ago while working with a Dominion government geological survey party at Sundum, near Juneau, Alaska. Several days ago a despatch appeared in a Victoria paper saying that young Shepherd had not died by falling over a precipice. The next day, however, a Vancouver paper, giving an account of the accident, gave the name of another member of the party. As the name of Mr. Ogilvie, head of the party, was signed to this despatch, it has taken as correct, and the parents, who were mourning their son as dead, congratulated themselves that the tragedy had not visited them. Today their joy has been turned to grief again by the receipt of a letter from Mr. Ogilvie himself, confirming the death of their boy.

The lad was very popular in the city, and sympathy with the bereaved parents is very general.

MORE HEINZE CASES

Sanford Robinson Convicted on Charge of Impeding Justice—A. P. Heinze on Trial

New York, June 24.—Sanford Robinson, personal counsel to E. Augustus Heinze, was convicted in the United States circuit court today of impeding the administration of justice in advising a grand jury witness to evade the service of a subpoena. The jury brought in a recommendation for mercy. Sentence will be imposed tomorrow.

The charge against Robinson grew out of the alleged mutilation of some of the books of the United Copper company while the jury had them under subpoena. In the Heinze investigation, and their subsequent disappearance, the witness Robinson is charged with having tampered with Tracy H. Buckingham, a Heinze clerk, who was wanted in an effort to locate the missing books and place the responsibility for their mutilation.

In his plea for the prisoner today, counsel for Robinson declared that if an offence had been committed, Robinson was not the offender.

The trial of Arthur P. Heinze, indicted on a charge of abetting the escape of Tracy H. Buckingham from the subpoena server of the grand jury who wanted the books of the United Copper company, was started in the U. S. circuit court as soon as the case against Robinson was finished.

HATCHING LOBSTERS

Experiment Carried Out at Nanaimo Biological Station Results Successfully

Nanaimo, June 24.—The experiments with lobster eggs which have been carried on at the biological station during the past few weeks have resulted entirely satisfactorily, as the young lobsters are emerging from their egg shells in some numbers and are apparently as strong and lively as if hatched under natural conditions.

The success of this experiment shows that the waters of this district are not too cold, and that if other conditions are suitable here is a probability that imported lobsters may reproduce their kind in these seas.

It also points to the feasibility of carrying out a suggestion that has been made, namely, that instead of attempting further importations of adult lobsters the eggs only should be brought and hatched artificially on this coast.

HIRADE MAY RETURN

Charges Made Against Japanese Banker at Seattle Are Not Sustained

Vancouver, B. C., June 24.—Sensational charges of having been connected with illicit traffic in Japanese women preferred against K. Hirade, vice-president of the American Oriental Bank of Seattle, by certain of his countrymen, have not been sustained. Hirade is free to return to the United States. This was the finding today of the special board of inquiry of local United States immigration officials. The investigation has been in progress for nearly a fortnight. Hirade will return to Seattle this afternoon. He declares that he has been the victim of a conspiracy, and will seek redress in the courts. It is likely that criminal prosecutions for perjury and suits for damages will be instituted against the parties who sought to prevent him returning to Seattle.

KAISER WOULD REDUCE ACCIDENTS

Berlin, June 24.—After studying reports of railway accidents in Germany, Great Britain and the United States, the Kaiser ordered the minister of justice to frame a bill, to be submitted to the Reichstag, making it compulsory upon railway companies to subject all employees having anything whatever to do with the running or moving of trains to medical examinations twice a year. In studying the medical and judicial aspects of railway accidents the world over, the Kaiser found that the majority is due to physical or mental shortcomings on the part of engineers, firemen, telegraph operators, conductors, etc. Investigation of the German railway employment records in particular, showed that the men must prove physical and mental fitness when they enter the service. Whether or not the employee's health or fitness for work deteriorates in the course of years, the railway companies do not seem to be concerned about, according to the Kaiser's investigations. By making medical examination of employees compulsory the Kaiser hopes to materially reduce the number of railway accidents in Germany.

JEW BAITING OFFICER LOSES JOB

Count Von Gersdorff, Captain of Horse Court Martialled for Offence to Jewish Private

Strasbourg, June 24.—Count Van Gersdorff, captain in a near by garrison, will probably be obliged to doff his showy uniform and retire for his Jew-baiting habits. The aristocratic officer, whose daughter is a lady of honor at the court of the Empress, is accused of having driven to death a private named Bloch. Bloch committed suicide because his captain and other superiors constantly referred to him in uncomplimentary terms reflecting upon his religious belief. The count is accused of having called Bloch "a dirty Jew" before the whole company. War Counsellor Walter, who was sent to investigate the charges, may likewise lose his job for trying to explain away the count's offence and find excuses for him.

HAZED TO DEATH BY HIS PUPILS

Bavarian Professor, Nervous Sufferer Was Teased by Jokers Now Indicted for Manslaughter

Erlangen, Bavaria, June 24.—Professor of Mathematics Dr. Bohn was teased to death by his class, and a number of the student hazers are under indictment for manslaughter. Dr. Bohn was a very nervous man, and a practical joker in the class discovered the fact stirred up the other scholars to play tricks on him and make his life a misery. The professor implored his pupils to leave him alone, explaining that his health was at stake, but the practical jokers, who called would have their way, and continued to annoy him. Finally the professor's wife and daughters called together the leading boys of the class, asking them to put a stop to the persecution. They responded nobly, and put up a sign in the class, saying: "Whoever annoys Professor Bohn will be soundly thrashed." The threat worked to perfection, but it came too late to save the professor. Soon after the sign was put up, Dr. Bohn took to his bed, never to rise again.

PRESS CONFERENCE AND IMPERIAL UNITY

Edinburgh, June 24.—Speaking at a luncheon given the visiting Press delegates yesterday by the Student's Union, J. A. MacDonald, of Toronto, said that the question of Imperial unity had been settled by their conference. Replying to the Provost's welcome, Mr. MacDonald pointed out the significance of concluding their tour at the capital of the unique Scottish people. They were the first of what Scotland and Edinburgh had done for the liberty of the world and the strength of the overseas dominions.
The Press would fight to give the common man a chance and fight if necessary against the tyrannous crowd democracies could breed, as their ancestors had fought against kings. He invited the British people to fill the great lands of overseas dominions, where they were wanted to build democracies, free and strong that would cling to the old home land.

LOG OF THE RECORD BREAKER

Fast Run by Princess Charlotte
Clipped Minute and Half
From Rival's Time

NO PREPARATIONS
MADE FOR TRIP

No picked Coal or Extra Firemen Provided for the Three Funnelled Liner

The record made by the steamer Princess Charlotte, the fine three-funnelled liner of the C. P. R., between Victoria and Seattle, was the chief topic of conversation on the waterfront. The performance of the Princess Charlotte was a specially good one. She slipped off a minute and a half, not one minute as previously reported, from the record made by the Princess Victoria, the new time for the trip being 3 hours 2 minutes 30 seconds. This is the official time. The run, moreover, was made without assistance, the tide from Point Wilson to Seattle and in the Straits the tide was not much in favor. The steamer left Victoria at 5:03 p. m. and at 5:16 p. m. the bell for full speed was given off Brothie ledge. The run across the Straits was made at a speed of approximately 23 knots an hour, the steamer passing Point Wilson at 6:39:15 p. m., one hour 13 minutes and 45 seconds from Brothie ledge. Four miles rock, where the slow down bell was given, was reached at 8:18:30 p. m., the time for Brothie ledge to Four Mile rock being 3 hours 2 minutes and 30 seconds. From Brothie ledge until the engines were slowed for landing the time was 3 hours 11 minutes and 30 seconds. From dock to dock the time was 3 hours 32 minutes and 30 seconds.

The log of the liner was: Left C. P. R. wharf, 5:03 p. m.; Brothie ledge, 5:16 p. m.; Point Wilson, 6:39:15; Marrowstone, 6:49:30 p. m.; Bush Point, 7:43:30 p. m.; Double Bluff, 7:17 p. m.; Point No Point, 7:26 p. m.; Apple Cove Point, 7:45 p. m.; Jefferson Head, 7:56 p. m.; West Point, 8:13 p. m.; Four Mile rock, 8:18:30 p. m.; Slow, 8:27:30 p. m.; Pier A, Seattle, 8:35:30.

The steamer was not provided with picked coal and carried no extra firemen; but the ship's officers were aware that a record was being made soon after the voyage was begun and they made every effort to keep up the good work. They are satisfied though that they have not taken all that is in the steamer and expect to make the run under three hours before long.

Meanwhile the rivalry between the two steamers continues intense, and the crews of both boats are willing to wager anything from a dollar to their month's pay at any time on a speed trial between the two liners, the best in the Pacific. Meanwhile the blue ribbon is held by the Princess Charlotte, and the new mark is 3 hours 2 1/2 minutes.

An idea of how intense the feeling is between the two steamers' complements and how great is the pride in the craft held by those on board is shown by an incident reported yesterday. In a house where one of the younger officers of the Princess Victoria resides the young man, a boy of 23 years of age, was awakened by

Then the young man's eyes filled. "Look's like it," he said, "but we'll get them yet."

So it is with all the members of the crews of both the fast three funnel liners. They are strong in their pride of their vessels and in their rivalry.

FOUL OF COUNCIL

Aldermanic Body of New Westminster
Objects to Captain Worsnop's
Statements

Capt. Worsnop of the Canadian-Mexican line is being sought by an angry city council at New Westminster. It seems that an article appeared in the Vancouver World in which statements were credited to the captain that the steamer Georgia had been delayed outside the Fraser river awaiting the rise of the tide. When the article was read in New Westminster a meeting of the city council was called. "Strong expressions were used by the aldermen that the river was not to blame and condemning the tone of the article. The mayor said G. A. Keefe, Dominion resident engineer, department of public works, was in Victoria, and he was not in a position to get in touch with him. Alderman Johnston observed the city might as well go out of business. A deputation to wait on Capt. T. H. Worsnop, who is alleged to have made the statements in an interview, was suggested to demand a retraction.

Ald. Adams said they all knew who was to blame for the late unfortunate circumstances which had given the river a black eye.

Mayor Keary suggested that after the committee had waited on Capt. Worsnop, a public meeting should be called at the Opera House, at which the pilot board should appear. The matter should be threshed out.

Ultimately a committee was appointed with power to act, to interview Mr. Keefe. Those named were Mayor Keary, Aldermen Fader and Adams.

Steamer From Soda Creek
to Bulkeley

That a steam vessel capable of carrying 60,000 pounds of freight, sixteen passengers, and a crew of five men can make the passage of the Fraser river from a point above Tlaqua canyon below Quenelle through to Fraser Lake, and also up the Stuart river to Stuart Lake, and along up Tlaqua river to the head of Tlaqua lake, has been proved by Nicholas Clarke, formerly a mining man of Barkerville and the Cariboo district, but now engaged in the steamboat business between the points mentioned.

The importance of the above discovery can hardly be realized as it proves that with the exception of a portage of about five miles around the canyon mentioned, the Fraser river is navigable almost to its source. Freight rates to the Bulkeley valley have already been materially reduced as a result and owing to navigation opening earlier and the saving in time, other advantages are presented. The Hudson's Bay Company is this year sending a large proportion of its supplies by this route.

Already owing to the advantages presented by this discovery in inquiries for agricultural implements from settlers in the Bulkeley valley has more than quadrupled. Formerly, owing to the frequent transhipments and the long haul by pack train, it was almost impossible to take these into the district. Mr. Clarke has had constructed a good wagon road around the canyon, and the five miles portage as stated, the only one required, is easily made.

The settlers in the Fraser and Francois Lake district benefit immediately. Their freight formerly could be taken as far as the canyon by steamer, and from there they had to pack it. Now they can ship it right through. Ultimately, of course, this district will be served by the G. T. P., but in the meantime the route is invaluable. The trip to Fraser Lake takes 3 1/2 days. The return journey requires but 11 hours.

But it is the other leg of the route that up through Stuart and Tlaqua Lake to Bulkeley, which will prove of the greater value, and the steamer service on the lakes will prove permanent.

Mr. Clarke, who has been spending a few days in the city, states that ultimately the intention to construct a boat which will make the entire run from Soda Creek with the exception of through the canyon referred to. Navigation is practicable for six months in the year, he states.

With the expenditure of $75,000 the waterway would be made possible of navigation by vessels of a much larger size, and representations will be made to the Dominion government seeking this.

The boat now in use is of Mr. Clarke's own design, and is in charge of a former Skeena river captain.

FRENCH BARK MAKES A RAPID VOYAGE

Mario Molinos Comes From Australian
Port to Golden Gate in Good
Time of 45 Days

The French bark Mario Molinos has arrived at San Francisco from Sidney, Australia, in the fast time of 45 days, one of the best trips on record. One of the smartest square riggers under the French tricolor is the Mario Molinos. The Marguerite Molinos and Genevieve Molinos, of the same fleet, are also fast sailers, and the three are known the world over for the splendid records they have made. The Mario Molinos came up from Australia in ballast to seek a grain charter.

Forty-five days from Sidney to San Francisco is a marked contrast to some of the passages of early last year, when a big fleet of coal-carriers took from 100 to 130 days en route. The Frenchman has bested by long odds the British ship Yeoman, now ninety days out from Sidney; the American schooner Willis A. Holden, ninety days out; and the French ship Thiers, eighty-one days out from Newcastle.

Better time is on record of passages from San Francisco to Australia, the British bark Duchalburn having made it in thirty-six days, and the British ship Blytheswood and German ship Magdalene in forty-two days each. However, it is more difficult to make time coming from Australia, as the windjammer have to contend with the north-east trades in the North Pacific.

The Mario Molinos is a handy-sized vessel of 1,715 tons. The Willis A. Holden, which is owned in Seattle, is expected daily at her destination, having been spoken north of the Hawaiian Islands on June 2. The French bark Bayard is fifty-one days from Newcastle, but the Mario Molinos has shown her heels also to this rival, as well as to the French bark Buffon, seventy-one days out from Newcastle for Seattle.

WIRELESS INSTALLED ON PRINCESS CHARLOTTE

Workmen Now Engaged in Placing Equipment on Board—Princess
Royal to Be Equipped

Wireless telegraphic apparatus is being installed on the steamer Princess Charlotte by the United Wireless Telegraph Company, exports being at work on board when the steamer reached port yesterday. It is expected that the apparatus will be in service before the end of the week. The steamer Princess Royal will also be equipped when she returns from the north.

Last March the C. P. R. ordered the equipment of the steamer Princess May by the United Wireless company in order that tests could be made of the utility of the apparatus. These trials proved successful, messages being received from the steamer from a distance of a thousand miles on some occasions, and it is expected that all the vessels of the fleet will have these instruments placed on board.

The delay of the Ottawa government in establishing stations on the northern coast has been responsible for the failure to equip the northern steamers earlier. It had been promised that stations would be established at Prince Rupert and on the Queen Charlotte Islands and Triangle Island, but work has not yet been proceeded with on any of these stations, and the local officials of the Dominion Radio Telegraph service are awaiting orders to begin the construction.

It is probable that a hitch will arise with regard to the Triangle Island station as a private company claim rights to the island for a wireless telegraph station. Some years ago a project was put forward for a trans-Pacific system of wireless telegraph stations and application was made for a site on Triangle Island for one of the stations in the proposed chain for the service across this ocean. With the statement that the government proposes to erect a station on Triangle Island it is stated a claim will be put forward by the former applicants to secure the site.

STEEL MAGNATES ON THE PRINCESS BEATRICE

Visiting Queen Charlotte Islands as Guests of James A. Moore, of Seattle

The passengers of the steamer Princess Beatrice, chartered by James A. Moore, of Seattle, for a trip to Queen Charlotte islands, include the sons of Henry Phipps, the well-known steel magnate, and a party of capitalists. There are aboard: H. C. Phipps, of New York; George E. Gordon, of New York; Malcolm G. Chase, of Providence, R. I.; Howard Phipps, of Westbury, N. Y.; D. T. Moore, of Westbury, and John S. Phipps, of Westbury.

The party is visiting the Queen Charlotte islands as guests of Mr. Moore, although he is not with the party. While in British Columbia they will visit Graham Island, where Mr. Moore has interests, with the idea of investigating its resources.

Henry Phipps, the father, was, next to Andrew Carnegie, the largest owner of stock in the United States Steel Corporation. He was born in Philadelphia, September 27, 1839. He worked in stores in Pittsburgh from 1859 to 1856, serving as office boy and bookkeeper for Dilworth and Bidwell, spike manufacturers. In 1861 he became junior partner of the firm of Bidwell and Phipps, agents for the Dupont Powder Co.

At the same time he became interested in a small iron mill conducted by Kloman and Phipps. From this he advanced himself again to a partnership with Thomas M. and Andrew Carnegie, and eventually became the second largest owner of stock in the United States Steel Corporation. During this active business life Henry Phipps built up one of the largest private fortunes in the United States. He sold out his steel corporation interest for $80,000,000. Members of the family are still heavy investors in the steel business.

Empress of Ireland Overtakes
White Star Liner
Magantic

Quebec, June 24.—A great deal of interest attaches today to the prospective arrival tomorrow of the White Star steamer Megantic and the C. P. R. Empress of Ireland. The bulletin boards at the various newspapers here displayed the progress of the vessels from point to point as they made their way up the St. Lawrence, and when it became known that the Empress had overtaken and passed the Megantic enthusiasm was manifested in all directions. Although the Empress did not leave Liverpool until twenty-four hours after the Megantic did, she overhauled the latter before Cape Point was reached. Marine men here who have watched the gulf and river reports declare that the Empress has travelled a fraction over 20 knots an hour since entering the gulf. The Empress arrived at Rimouski at 10:50 tonight, and after landing the mails proceeded for this city at midnight. She is expected to dock here at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

Tangier, Morocco, June 24.—The troops of the Sultan have been victorious in an important engagement fought outside of Fez with the rebel army under the command of Roghi. This is the engagement that has been expected for some days past, and in which the internal peace of Morocco depended. Roghi and his forces were completely routed.

National Christianity.

I have followed every Sunday morning recently with much interest the series of lay sermons, in which you apparently aim to lay down the lines of a form of Christianity, which shall make the least possible demand upon the reasoning faculties of the average reader. I admire the heroic manner in which you grapple with the main difficulty attendant upon your efforts. For since every form or shadow of Christianity must in the nature of things give some modicum of recognition to the Bible, a Christianity without mystery, rational Christianity, as it is called, is the particular conception to which the Bible itself refuses the most emphatically to be accommodated.

Discouraging on a recent Sunday on the saying of St. Paul, "Great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh," you interpret your text as an allusion to the truly great mystery of the divine nature manifest in the human soul. The interpretation is not an unworthy one. It is, I expect, as original as it is ingenious. Unfortunately, it is also quite impossible. It depends entirely on an uncritical reading and an incorrect translation of the original. The original has nothing about God or godliness or godlikeness in it at all nor can any such meaning be extracted from it. Modern scholarship has agreed to replace the erroneous "God" by the correct "Who." In the characters in which the earliest copies were made there is only the difference of a dot between the two Greek words and "Who" has the best manuscript authority behind it. It has in fact been adopted in the revised version.

The word translated "godliness" means right worship, right reverence, especially to the gods, and we should have said, religion. But as the word religion in one aspect comprises conduct, in another ceremonial observance and in yet another belief, so this word, eusebeia, came to be used by early Christian writers in the sense almost of "the faith."

It is obvious that the rendering "godliness" makes unintelligible nonsense out of the whole passage. It is so fairly obvious that St. Paul intended to be intelligible to his correspondent. And the only reasonable interpretation of your text is to suppose that he is using the word in this latter sense. The mystery of godliness conveys no meaning whatever. We hear the words read in church and suppose they mean something because they are in the Bible. But "the mystery of the faith" is intelligible at once.

The words that follow, "Who was manifested in the flesh," down to "received up in glory," are conceded by modern scholarship to be a quotation from some early metrical confession of faith and are so printed in the modern Greek editions of the New Testament.

The whole passage becomes connected and intelligible. "How tremendous" is a modern Christian author might write "are the mysteries of our most holy religion—Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven and was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man." The construction is faulty but no reasonable human being could entertain the smallest doubt about the meaning.

I am afraid, therefore, your text is one from which it is well nigh impossible for "rational" Christianity to extract much comfort. On a recent Sunday, Mr. Editor, a Christianity without mystery, a Christianity compassable by the human intellect, a Christianity comprised in a few elegant extracts from the Master's moral teaching. Do you really imagine that any such phantom of Christianity as that would have conquered the Roman world and endured for two thousand years a vital force and energy in human society. The doctrine of "God manifest in the flesh" as transcending the utmost flight of the human understanding is of course utterly incompatible with a "rational" Christianity. But a rational Christian should in that case be able to offer some rational explanation of the unquestionable power of Christianity in the world without taking it into account.

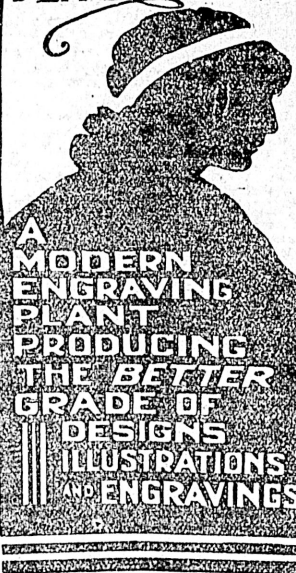

Christ Himself said that the dogma of this godhead, the belief in this godhead, was the rock on which He would build His church and the history of two thousand years is a standing witness to the fulfillment of His word. Take that belief away to-day and what would remain of Christianity as a living power in the world? You might as well expect to take the heart out of a living man and to have anything else in your hands but a grinning corpse.

Was it, then, all a mistake, a misconception or worse? Was he really only a mere man, a moral teacher, an expounder of what he imagined to be the ways of God to man? Have we and our forefathers been worshipping for well nigh twenty centuries for our God a crucified Jew? Is all that remains a few laws of morality and the most absurd and abject superstition that ever enthralled the human mind? I think, Mr. Editor, before you ought to tell us how you arrive at so terrible a conclusion.

Strange Cricket Catches.
Catches which are effected through the agency of two or more people are not infrequent. I myself was once dismissed in this way, returning for South vs. North at Lord's in September, 1900. I drove a ball hard back and wide of the right hand of the bowler, E. Smith. Smith just touched the ball with the tip of his fingers, deflecting its course so to the stalwart frame of "W. G." who was in with me, and, before I fell, Smith made a successful grab and I had to go. In the Surrey and Philadelphia match in 1897, Abel was caught at cover-slip, the ball having first touched the wicket-keeper's hand, whence it went to slip, who also failed to accept the opportunity of distinguishing himself, but sent the ball into F. W. Ralston's hands, who was fielding at extra slip.

THE COLONIST ENGRAVING DEPARTMENT

E. B. Shine, of the Cambridge eleven of 1897, was dismissed in a somewhat similar manner. He drove a ball hard back to F. H. E. Cunliffe, who made the catch too hot to hold, but deflected it into the willing hands of R. E. Foster at mid-on. When B. J. T. Bosanquet was playing against the Gentlemen of Philadelphia, on the Manheim ground, he was out in a most extraordinary manner. In attempting to hook a fast-rising ball he hit it on to his forehead, whence it rose in the air in the direction of mid-off, where it was easily caught by the bowler.

But it is perhaps such catches as that made by Captain Adams which are the most exhilarating to read about. Captain Adams leaped over an iron fence three feet ten inches high in the old Phoenix Park, and, while in the air, caught the ball in his left hand. Then there was the catch effected in Ceylon in 1898, in a match between the Royal Engineers and Royal Artillery. It seems that a gunner fielding in the country, seeing that the ball, hit high in the air, was coming in his direction, ran backward to catch it, but, misjudging the distance, received it plump on the top of his pith helmet; the ball, however, instead of bouncing off, went right through the headgear, resting on his head inside. By the time the gallant fieldsmen had been extracted from him, the batsman he had caught so admirably was seeking the solace that liquid refreshment in the cool pavilion affords.

Finally a curious incident happened in the third test match between South Africa and the M.C.C. team at Johannesburg in March 1906. An adventurous spider, anxious to have a good look at the South Africans, who were making a fine score, climbed on to the top of the wicket, and there spun its web. It evidently brought good luck to the batsmen, for that particular set of wickets was not hit once during the day. From a breezy article on "Curiousities of Cricket," in the June Fall Mail Magazine.

The Need of Rest.

It is not only necessary to know when to rest, but how to rest. Few people, and certainly few women, know how to "sit still" mentally or physically. It is essential that the mind as well as the body should learn repose. Try, as far as possible, to avoid the habit of worrying. Care killed the cat, and certainly many lives have been shortened by worry. The tiny pin-pricks of life are, for some temperaments, harder to bear than the big stabs of misfortune, but it is quite possible, by means of earnest endeavor and firm self-control, to overcome ultra-sensitiveness of disposition, and to cultivate Mark Tapscott's philosophical spirit. One never ought to allow oneself to reach that point when one must bend or break. It is quite possible—difficult as it may appear—to attain the power of laying aside trouble or care for a brief period. When this power is once attained, it will be found that it is not more difficult to control the mind than to control the limbs. Muscular relaxation is impossible except when the mind is tranquil. When the tired brain can completely throw off the strain of work or worry, the body is given an opportunity for rest. In order to get real physical rest, the muscles must be trained completely to relax. There should be no stiffness of the spine, no constraint of head or chest. Whether you lie on a couch or bed, or recline in an easy chair, let the muscles relax. Shut out all plans or speculative thoughts, and in a shorter time than you probably have any conception of, you will have learned the secret of how to rest. Having once mastered that secret, take doses of rest as conscientiously as you would take a nerve tonic if ordered by your doctor.—"The Lady."

BOSTON COPPER MARKET.

(Furnished by F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Boston, June 24.—The market was stronger this morning in sympathy with New York. The volume of trading was very small. The price of the American-gated made a sharp rally. There was some fair buying of Franklin, which carried the stocks to 18, the high point of the day.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

(Furnished by F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, June 24.—Wheat—Result of today's trading in wheat was a surprising one to the ears who have been having things all their own way for a few days. It looked as if strong interests were quietly absorbing offerings on the 'breaks and were in a position to bring the short seller round to their senses. This is just what happened today when July wheat was given a whirl from 113 to 114 1/2 in half an hour's time. September recovered to 107 1/2 from 106 1/2, and December from 106 1/2 to 107 1/2, last prices were 3/4 to 1/2 a cent under best prices of the day. Liverpool showed a returning strength. Argentine shipments were estimated at 1,600,000 bbls. and the new wheat crop of that country shows conditions to be unfavorable because of frost and drought. Weather southwest for the early harvest. Our Mr. Ingalls gives yields in southern Kansas light at ten bushels per acre. Oklahoma irregular 3 to 13 bushels and threshing there beginning at once. No doubt some bearishness will continue while the trade is in June but we believe the market has had its period of depression and that the next months will do to buy on all breaks around this level.
Corn—There was a strong and higher opening in corn at 107 1/2, it was as the support soon gave out and a rather fierce drive was made at the market not only by local bears but by some of the big houses in the east which have tried to break corn a number of times in the past thirty days and seem to have a fighting chance today because of the fine crop prospects and July liquidation. Shipping business was 160,000 bushels. If the movement from reserves does not increase it will be a matter for the sellers that they are again in the wrong.
